YOUR SUBMISSION

I'm over 65 years old, have used cannabis for over 35 years, and find it incredibly helpful to my well-being. But at the moment I am breaking the law buying - and so is anyone helping me. And the quality of what I buy is all over the place.

I'd love to see a properly regulated market, as has happened overseas. I'd love to have professional advice as to the best options and products and dose for me. At the moment I don't even tell my doctor because of the illegal nature - and that is probably not giving her the full information she needs when treating me.

It seems to me that more harm is done by the blackmarket system we currently have and a more open and health-based system would help everyone.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

Let's have a health based drug policy.

Personal use of cannabis should be legal. Sale of cannabis should be legal and regulated. Cultivation of cannabis for personal use should be legal.
