Decriminalisation will eliminate profits from organised crime and will be able to control quality of cannabis

YOUR SUBMISSION

Due to the low crime involved in cannabis use and decriminalisation as well as education will help. It does wonders for helping people get themselves off harder drugs as well as tobacco. Legalisation will also generate large amounts of revenue to be used for roads, hospitals, drug dependency programs etc.

It's a plant that is ingrained in our culture. Decriminalisation has not will never work. And the benefits far outweigh the negatives if there even is any.
