Legalizing marijuana and regulating the sales would be beneficial for the government, hello tax, and also for those of us who use it for medical reasons and not just for fun. Right now it's expensive and most people mix it with tobacco to stretch it, making it unhealthy and addictive. If it were legal and cheaper, with options like oils for vaping or cooking at a decent price, we could really get the medical benefits without the harm so many of us currently do with smoking in unhealthy ways.

Also different strains do different things so being able to buy the one you need and avoid the ones that are detrimental to your mental health or have no pain killing properties.

I'm tired of giving money to lazy people who think they're special and give people anxiety waiting for answers.

I want to walk into a proper establishment and talk to someone with knowledge and know that I'm getting something that is genuinely improving my quality of life and remove the anxiety of dealing with these low life dealers.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

I just want to ingest this as a medicine in the healthiest way possible and still be able to afford groceries.
