YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

I continue to feel disappointed in the Australian government in terms of cannabis usage laws and regulations. It has been proven that regulation of substances encourages safe usage. Aside from safe usage being encouraged it is important to recognise cannabis as a medical substance. My cousin is only 17 years old and has suffered from aggressive epileptic seizures her whole life, many doctors and specialists have stated that if cannabis was completely legalised it could be used to treat her seizures but she does not fall into the categories outlined in the medicinal marijuana usage regulations.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

free young aboriginal Australians that have been convicted on non-violent drug charges. First cannabis then MDMA, keep our children safe, enforce pill testing.
