YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

"assess the health, mental health, and social impacts of cannabis use on people who use cannabis, their families and carers;" I personally believe that if we allow the recreational use of marijuana it will allow us to study these relations without looming legal threats. Working within the health sector i hear and see people talking and showing their side effects of legal drugs such as Alcohol, Cigarettes and even Caffeine. Its a risk to take to make it legal as its not something you can come back from but i believe that the pros outweigh the cons as if we come to the conclusion that it might negatively harm your life then the average consumer who didn't use it prior to the legalization of marijuana is probably not going to continue after finding out its effects, while the people who have always used marijuana will continue to use it just like they did when it was illegal.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

Canberra's model to me is a great foundation that allows some research and allows people not to be incarcerated over a plant
