YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

The way it is treated in our society is completely outdated. The benefits far outweigh the detrimental aspects of marijuana. The outdated aspect of how it is treated, unfortunately does not just exist in the marijuana industry. It is widespread across our government, from education to criminality. The younger generation of Australia will be the ones that end up living in the society decided upon today. And we deserve more of a voice in how this country is governed. Just because something was believed to be true 50 years ago, does not mean it is true today. But the people currently in charge of our government still have this twisted ideology, imparted on them from their upbringing in the past. The reality facing the youth of today, and how we will exist in the future of Australian society should be decided upon by the youth.
