Create a new legal booming market could be the thing to help reinject money back into the marketplace all while increasing the levels of business being created to service this new legal market and the added bonus of the medical use to help those who require it and not having to fund illegal crime organisations or risk putting themselves into danger for a product that benefits their mental health.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

I do not use any illegal drugs, I just see this as a moment to help boost our economy, create hundreds of jobs overnight and creating a new product to ship to legal outside markets, bringing an untold wealth into Victoria, fully taxed and improve even more of our great state.
