I am a young adult who suffers from untreated mental health issues, I've found a lot of solace in using weed. It helps calm me down and overall puts me in a better state even when I'm sober. It's also, y'know, fun. I like doing it socially too. I've been using by myself during quarantine to help me regulate my emotions, it's healthy. Better than the alcohol my housemates have turned to. So why should I have to risk charges, and have my dealer risk charges, so I can enjoy a mostly harmless substance in my own home? Why is getting drunk and all the damage that does to a person legal but marijuana isn't? It's pointless hypocrisy. And that's not even to mention unjust incarceration of people of colour for non violence drug offences. Set up dis-pensaries, tax it, whatever. But full legalisation of marijuana will help so many people so social and medical reasons.

Do you think there should there be restrictions on the use of cannabis? :

Personal use of cannabis should be legal. Sale of cannabis should be legal and regulated. Cultivation of cannabis for personal use should be legal. There should be no restrictions.
