YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

The legalisation of cannabis for recreational use would be an effective way to rebuild the economy post-Covid 19. Regulation and tax of cannabis sales similar to that of alcohol would yield vast returns for the government in the short-term and long-term, as has been the case in the plethora of US States which have done the same thing, as with Canada.

Additionally, legalisation would massively unburden the legal system from trafficking/possession cases that could otherwise have been avoided, allowing cases with greater weight behind them to be heard sooner.
