I think what is being done to public tenants is really unfair since these housing are their homes, if you make the public housing private, where is everyone going to be housed. They can't afford to be renting privately. I know the government says they will be helping the tenants with their rent, but for how long. I'm young and capable of working for myself and I still find it hard to pay for my rent. Most of the tenants in public housing are elderly and I know they can't afford to rent privately. If the government is going to be taking their homes away, they should be honest about their actions because it's really cruel to lie to them.
