The [REDACTED]

To Whom it may concern.

My husband and I moved into the [REDACTED] Retirement Village Moe in January 2008. In those 8 years there has been no progress made at all.

We now have a third owner who for 2 years and 3 months has presented no figures whatsoever we are paying maintenance certainly not

A large sum compared to some $138.33 per month. But then again we have had no improvements done either. The position at the moment

Is we still have construction site fences up where units were to be built and nothing has progressed at all. We do not have a community centre

As such just one unit has been converted to allow us to hold small get togethers.

The first owner of the village went bankrupt and Banksia took over we all know what happened there. Deloitte sold off land at a value of

2 million dollars to use their words to start progressing with the village. That did not happen and neither did The Range receive any of the Proceeds from the land sale being told it went into a black hole. How can this happen?

Surely something can be done to stop these people coming along with false promises most people living in retirement villages have leases or contracts

Believing they are going to receive what they have signed for.

received are successful

Hoping that the submissions
