I am a resident living in a retirement village the sales lady assured us that the 2nd vehicle which was too high for the garage could be parked opposite to us in the visitor parking area. We were told by management that it was better to park it off site (temporary parking in the Condo Carport available) the vehicle was used for voluntary work and we didn't re register it after the registration ran out.

Having an Ombudsmen in the industry may have help us resolve this issue without getting rid of the vehicle. The sales person shouldn't have lied and it might have affected our decision to enter the village in the first place.
