I am a resident living in a Retirement Village. I am very concerned with a resident having to be made to fix an issue with an asset that has not been correctly installed from day one. We have backyard fencing and it does not open, there is no emergency exit out the back door in case of a fire. We are most alarmed that that this has fallen on deaf ears and the owner wont fix the problem. Does it take a fire to go through a couple of units before it is deemed to be a safety risk. I feel an Ombudsman in the industry would help us get this matter resolved.
