I would like to express my support for an increase in music programs at primary and secondary levels.

There is a considerable amount of documented research to support the connection between success in broader education with that of having been engaged in music education.

I believe that my daughters have greatly benefitted from their music lessons (both individual and class tuition) at both primary and secondary school.

The music program is so valuable in schools for many reasons such as the positive impact it has on student learning, providing an opportunity for team work and creating a strong connection to the school community.

Music is integrated into our schools in so many ways and impacts all children's lives whether they participate more intensively in the music program or not. There are many benefits from music to our school community with the development of confidence, cohesion, team work and an improved learning environment being just a few examples.

I ask that you enhance the existing programs for the benefit of all.

Thank you
Ann Price
