Dear Representatives and public servants

Firstly, i apologise for being late. For such an important enquiry, there was little notice give to the public. Why can't they advertise these inquiries in the media including the Internet? (Elections and census events are advertised, you know.)

Now, sexual abuse is everywhere. We live in a highly permissive society rivalling that excesses of Caligula and some periods of ancient Rome. It is very silly to confine sexual abuse to religious organisations.

Religious abuse is a favoured media topic - particularly here in the staunchly anti-Christian newspaper "The Age". i remember the allegations made against Cardinal Pell. It was front-page news in that newspaper. Just allegations. A high percentage of Victorians are time-poor, busy, drug-addicted, football-addicted and/or functionally illiterate. They merely see a stream of headlines or pictures. Media Chiefs of Staff feed these people the selected 'news'. So the media owners and 'journos' have a favourite game - "Let's attack the Christian Church". The Roman Catholic Church is demonised. Many people are very anti-Church due to media reporting. The Christian Church and religions try to build up real community and neighbourliness. Business advertisers,media owners and kowtowing 'journos' seek to increase selfishness, consumerism, atomisation, and greed. This makes profits soar but creates a Macchiavellian world. End justifies means.

There is surely lots of kudos and money to be made by alleging sexual abuse by clergy. It is political correctness (PC=enforced conformity) by a decadent Western society to attack religion - particularly the Roman Catholic Church.(Muslim allegations of abuse receive lenient treatment. Virtues such as Christian tolerance, love of neighbour, humility and eschewing gossip (without strings) are seen as anathema in the Brave New World.)

Why all these allegations? Our society glorifies freedom at the cost of responsibility. The cities grew in size and anonymity. Hedonism - if it feels good, do it - abounded. Globalisation brought us into closer contact with America and Europe and well-funded international lobby groups, such as abortion and homosexuality. Sexual images proliferated in both men's and women's magazines. Self-regulation became to the fore as a government policy. Gradually, censorship of community standards was no more - verboten. Sunday was no longer a restful day - newspapers, shops, sport, grog shops, 'adult' shops proclaim the 'shop 'til you drop' mantra.

Sexuality became a commodity. With our growing anonymous cities and our fragmented lives, where family and community gave way to easy divorce and individualised lives, little wonder that some celibate clergy adopted sexual experimentation. Society no longer valued them as people and advisors. Did we really expect that Australian religious clergy from Hare Krishna to Salvation Army to Roman Catholic could stay immune from the hypocrisies and sexual pressures from the television, films and other institutions around them? Let ye without sin cast the first stone!!

FALSE MEMORY is a real factor to consider. Seeds were sown by counsellors and psychologists in clients' heads to account for behaviours. AFMA is a local website to search for - www.afma.asn.au/. With False Memory, careers have been destroyed by sexual Freudian allegations. Also, i need not remind you all that some persons will do anything for money - including actively lie in Court!! For example. a violent man got mioney from Marist Brothers with his allegations. However they were spurious. He was brutally terrorising his own family and insisting they kept silent about his lies.

Of course the homosexual lobby has become very strong. Such sexual lobbies have gutted the discipline and self-control of religious clergy, Society is fawning over homosexuality. Elton John is rich. Ellen is rich. Therefore these role models exert gravitational force on vulnerable including young people and hitherto-upright religious clergy.

We have freedom now to receive junk mail with female 'bits' everywhere selling bras, panties. Tampons are advertised without restriction.

Almost everything is liberalised and unrestricted. EROS Foundation and the Sex Party are led by a woman - Fiona Patten. Her vile lobbies glorify sex and drugs. She not only praises queer marriage but wants to abolish the Marriage Act altogether. (3CR interview, 2012). Her organisations have anarchistic aims. With thousands of X-rated pornography films flooding Australia each month, the EROS peak porn body is rolling in money. The pornography industry and international groups such as Electronic Frontiers Federation actively stops politicians from eradicating filth from the Internet. In this regard, Australian politicians seem to be prized pawns of the porn industry. Little wonder then our nation is wealthy in brainlessness!! Little wonder that religious people are easy targets for media manipulation and exaggeration. Sex services are advertised in most newspapers in Australia - city and suburban. Thank you, (non-Australian citizen) Rupert Murdoch.

Finally, if you care about Australia today, especially our social fabric, you will see through the deceit and lies of the pushers of sexual propaganda. You will see the causes behind some of the permissiveness among religious leaders. You will also reject the intolerant aggressive sexual claims of the homosexual marriage lobby, the pornography lobby and the Greens social engineers. (As a Passionate Environmentalist and Vegetarian, i reject the cunning of the Greens.) Please be aware that early Gay Pride marches in America featured the North American Man-Boy Love Association. The paedophile group is still very healthy - see www.nambla.org/. Please reject the anti-faith lobbying of such permissive groups as NAMBLA, EROS, GREENS, GET-UP and ALSO.
