RE: INQUIRY INTO DRUG LAW REFORM

Life with IV drug users.

The current approach is not working as it is still resulting in the scenarios...another overdose and/or death. I'm not personally an IV drug user however I have spent most of my 32 years growing up around IV drug users and many of us have spoken about safe injecting rooms and think it's just something that needs to happen! We are all sick of having to dodge used needles in the streets of Richmond or having to phone for help for yet another overdose. Amongst my friends, we understand this will not end that problem but will make it safer for both IV users and non IV users with containment of used injecting equipment it's going to be safer and healthy for everyone!
