Subject: Let commonsense reign on the issue of drug injecting safe rooms

RE: INQUIRY INTO DRUG LAW REFORM

Let commonsense reign on the issue of drug injecting safe rooms

The evidence is there that safe drug injecting rooms save lives, reduce community distress at street injecting and gives dignity to people who are addicted to intravenous drugs. The issue of illegal drug consumption will not be effectively addressed by not providing safe support systems for vulnerable community members. I understand the Liberals, with their ostrich like tendencies on addressing social issues, not supporting drug injecting safe rooms but Labour?! This is the 21st century and we expected progressive politicians from Labour and the Greens to know the realities of modern life and be able to face them!
