I wish to register my disappointment in VicRoad's management of country roads. Most especially the roads in South West Victoria. These roads are increasingly used by freight trucks which are doing severe damage to local roads and highways. My belief is that there needs to be more funding directed toward rural and regional roads in Victoria. Especially considering the fact that the roads are were not built for the weight and frequency of the aforementioned freight trucks. An increase in funding is imperative to not only the economic future of our state but most importantly ensure it's safety. Furthermore a more judicious use of said funding could implemented on a regional basis. This could be achieved through consultation at a regional level. This information could then be delivered to, collated and considered by a specific country roads body which would be better situated to dispense funds to the most needy roads.
