
my concern is about the roads in western vic is i came to portland in 1955 my grandfarther sead the road heywood to portland will have all the bends taken out in the next year or so ha ha not yet but there has been a lot of talk about double hyways from colac to warrnambool then to s.a. boarder for that long I dont think I or my grand kids will se it but our roads are a shambells the trucks are getting bigger and more of them I know they all need to make aliving but do we need to see some poure family get killed befor we do some thing about it
