In my opinion the bitumen roads in Victoria are excellent but the gravelled country roads are rough, neglected and in many places a disgrace to Vic Roads. I came from WA two years ago so can compare quite easily. Many smaller country roads in WA are bitumenised and the gravelled ones are regularly graded, we were shocked to see how bad they are here in the southern part of Victoria.