Experience from around the world, especially Belgium, and Europe, demonstrates that euthanasia is impossible to legislate.

As with abortion: the Abortion Act 2008 has effectively legitimised abortion in the minds of people, and this practice has if anything increased; this will be the same situation if euthanasia is made legal.