Every person should have the right to choose when and how they end their life.

Such laws have been successfully implemented in other countries and it is time to apply such laws here.