Inquiry Name: Inquiry into End of Life Choices

Professor M Leigh Ackland

SUBMISSION CONTENT:

As the population ages and individuals survive longer due to medical interventions, a person may lose their quality of life and may not desire to continue interventions to prolong their life.

I submit that individuals should have the right to decide if they wish to die.

The right of a person to die should not be usurped by others who may lay claim to this.

Particularly individuals who are guided by religious beliefs should not impose their beliefs on others.

The desire to die should not be stigmatised.

A person should have access to exit from life strategies such as Nembutal.

Assistance with life exit strategies should be made through the same processes that other medical procedures are i.e a team of experts who are appropriately qualified.
