I strongly feel as a mature, responsible, independent, tax paying, law abiding citizen of Australia that I should have the right to choose my life style and my death in a way that has no impact or bring harm to another person - I do not tell people how to lead their lives and therefore that nobody should tell me how to end mine in a dignified and civilised way. Eleanor Chevor

Sent from my iPad