I wish to voice my, and my wife’s, support for any amendment to the law which will allow, with appropriate safeguards, for people who are suffering incurable illness or debilitating physical impairment to be legally able to end their lives in a humane way, especially whilst they are capable of making such a decision or have indicated their desire to do so in some form of dying with dignity document.

Bill and Kay O’Donnell