2018-19 Budget

$1 billion is being invested as part of the Victorian Government’s ongoing commitment to improve the outcomes of children and families.

This builds on the Roadmap for Reform: Strong Families, Safe Children, supports our response to the Royal Commission into Family Violence and strengthens the youth justice system.

This investment includes:

Record investment in child and family services

Our commitment to families and children is demonstrated by our record investment in the portfolio over the past four state budgets.

- Since 2014-15, investment for child and family services has increased by $704 million
- This is an increase of 69 per cent

More family services and early intervention

$112.1 million for a range of services that provide support for family preservation and reunification, including:

- $64.4 million for 2,709 Child FIRST assessments and 1,699 intensive family services
- $27.6 million to continue support for children early in life through the Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies, Cradle to Kinder and other early intervention programs
- $10.4 million to embed additional child and family service practitioners in universal services
- $9.8 million to expand evidence based program trials that aim to prevent the abuse and neglect of children, through intensive weekly support to parents with children and young people

Family services and early intervention

Expanding child protection and supporting after-hours service

$225.5 million to support the child protection workforce and protect children where abuse or neglect is alleged to have occurred, including:

- $207.9 million for 450 child protection practitioner positions - the biggest expansion ever of our workforce
- $17.7 million to continue support for specialist child protection staff, including the After Hours Child Protection Emergency Service

New approaches to out-of-home care

$390.7 million investment in the Roadmap for Reform to help ensure that children who need to go into out-of-home care are with a loving family:

- $214.3 million for 2,839 home-based placements and associated client expenses, as well as funding to support carers
- $140.6 million for therapeutic approaches for children in care with complex needs, including 162 targeted care packages to continue to reduce the number of kids in residential care, professionalised foster care and our sibling model.
- $33.5 million for a new model of kinship care with 36 dedicated kinship practitioners
- $2.3 million to extend a trial of independent living support for 100 young people as they transition from out-of-home care into adulthood up until the age of 21

Building a stronger future for Aboriginal children

$47.3 million to support the implementation of Wungurilwil Gapgapduir Aboriginal Children and Families Agreement

- $14.0 million for the Australian-first Aboriginal Children in Aboriginal Care program, which enables Aboriginal Community Controlled Organisations to take on legal guardianship of Aboriginal children in care
- $13.3 million to support Aboriginal Community Controlled Organisations to take on the management of Aboriginal children in care
- $20.0 million to continue the important support for the Aboriginal Child Specialist Advice and Support Service, and for cultural planning

A further $7.1 million will drive workforce improvements across the families and children service system, with an emphasis on Aboriginal Community Controlled Organisations

Aboriginal children and young people

More support for survivors of sexual assault and family violence

Building on this government's investment of $1.9 billion in the 2017-18 Budget to tackle family violence, $49.9 million is being invested for:

- Approximately 6,500 packages each year for victims of family violence
- An additional 500 sexual assault support sessions, extra staff to address demand pressures on the state-wide Sexual Assault Crisis Line, and additional Adolescent Family Violence places
- Operation of the Wyndham Multidisciplinary Centre to link child protection practitioners with specialist police investigators and sexual assault counsellor/advocates

Responding to family violence

Building stronger communities

We are building stronger communities through:

- $21.8 million for Neighbourhood Houses across the state to deliver an additional 76,700 coordination hours and 4,800 more networker hours to provide extra services and activities to more families, tailored to the needs of their local community
- $21.7 million is being invested to increase the annual cap on the Utility Relief Grant Scheme from $500 to $650, helping low-income families experiencing unexpected hardship
- $0.5 million to establish a training program for managers of volunteers and technology trials to support volunteering activity and help strengthen community connections across the state

Community participation and concessions

Record investment in Youth Justice

The 2018-19 State Budget provides an additional $145 million over four years to strengthen youth justice, support rehabilitation and ensure the safety of staff, young people and the community.

This investment builds on the unprecedented investment of over $1 billion our Government has made over the past four years.
