The government lockdown of Victoria is vastly dis-proportionate to the risk of COVID-19. At the start of the pandemic, lockdowns were accepted as a way of ensuring our healthcare system would not be overrun by a largely unknown virus. But 3 months into it, we already knew that it was not as fatal as first feared and our health systems were nowhere near full. So there is no scientific reason to further extend the deprivation of rights and freedoms that is causing untold devastation to businesses, people's esteem, mental health and other undiagnosed health conditions of Victorians.

It is clearly proven that almost all the 800+ killed by Covid has been linked to the botched hotel quarantine program. The problem does not stem from out here in the community. Fix to root of the problem and let the Victorian community free.
