Hi, thanks for responding, I would certainly like it read as a comment, as I feel we have lost responsibility for ourselves, it's all a blame game! The decision is yours, if you feel its on deaf ears, so be it! Thanks

Subject: Enquiry

Hi, I sit here in wonderment,, at the broad outline of the terms etc! Nowhere did I here the mention of the people in Quarantine. Surely those in Quarantine have the main responsibility, they have, I believe, a responsibility to be in Isolation to prevent the spread of the virus. Yet you blame everyone employed, and so on, up the chain !

I don't care who was employed, the whole thing was treated like Kevin Rudds roof insulation, a bloody furphy ! It seems none of us can do a job by description anymore, we have to be trained, we have to have a set of rules, and dare we think for ourselves, and we have to have a quality assurance person to make sure we dot the "i,s" ! We just have one big rort, then when it goes wrong, blame the Premier, or the Prime minister, or anyone you can think of!

The failure is that the people that were in Quarantine, thought it was a joke, the people that were security, at all levels saw it as a money making scheme, and the coal face workers saw it as a way to do nothing, and get paid for it.

We have lost our respect for the law, for rules, and for our fellow man, and we blame everyone but ourselves.....what a shame, can't wait to see the results of the enquiry!

In case your wondering, I am an old Fart living in a covid free area on the mid coast of NSW and I have voted National all my life. I think Daniel Andrews has done a great job !!!

I hope someone reads this, yours without anticipation, John Grigg
