To Whom It May Concern

I am writing to object to the Omnibus Bill which has passed into legislation in Victoria earlier this week. I object to this bill on the grounds that it gives the Labour Government too many powers over the people of Victoria. Police or anyone nominated by a "suitable" person have complete liberty to detain anyone they "think" will not obey the draconian rules introduced by Daniel Andrews. He calls it law but they have not officially been tabled into parliament and enacted on so they are not lawful. The police or nominated person are able to enter your home without permission and seize any equipment they deem suitable to be able to be used unlawfully or to arrest you for any reason or none. They do not have to give you a time frame of when you will be released. We have the harshest long down rules in the entire world and Daniel Andrews keeps extending the State of Emergency Law to enable him to continue having complete control over our lives.

The people in nursing homes are desperate to see their family and are becoming very depressed and many do not understand why they can't visit and think they are being ignored by their children. My sister is one of those elderly people, she has mild dementia and keeps thinking her children do not care about her. It is very hard having to remind her it is not that at all but they are not allowed to visit because of the five kilometre rule. The hopelessness and despair people are experiencing because of the extended lockdown is horrendous and Daniel Andrews disregard for people's lives is appalling.

He is ruining our economy not allowing work places to open and the retail sector is in total disarray. My niece owns a gift shop and does not know whether to order stock in for Christmas trading or the quantity in case it is not sold. These are very difficult times for her and all traders.

Thank you for reading my concerns and taking them into consideration.

Kind Regards,

Gloria Delahunty
