

Drought shoots down duck hunting: Aerial survey finds, 'No water means no waterbirds' Drought has shot down waterbird numbers, putting pressure on government to curb or cut a 2020 duck hunting season.

PETER HUNT

The Weekly Times, 23 October 2019

Subscriber only