*Dear Sir/Madame,
Please consider my submission in regards to the new Proposed legislation stated in the subject of the email.*

Re: Social Services Legislation Amendment (No Jab, No Pay) Bill 2015

My name is [REDACTED].

I had an adverse reaction to a vaccine in my childhood. My husband had a very bad reaction to a flu vaccine, my brother-in-law had a year long lasting side effect and chronic fatigue after vaccine, therefore I have decided not to vaccinate my children.

We as parents make sure that our kids stay at home whenever they are sick and look after them in the most appropriate way opposed to the majority of kids whose parents choose to vaccinate and send them really sick to schools, kindergartens, childcare. This simple example tells us that responsibility towards society can not be fulfilled by simply vaccinating everyone.

I believe any person should have a right to decide whether to take a certain medication or not. If a side effect occurs the only people who would care for a damaged person would be his/her family, not the government, hence the parents have to have a right to decide if their child should be vaccinated.

Yes, side effects do not occur in many cases but in many they do, and in majority of this cases they are not documented by the doctors, as they do not look into the link or say it is not related, so it is a vicious circle, that is why people who have proved that they had a vaccine related injury spent YEARS of law suits.

Yes, infectious diseases can be bad but vaccine side effects can be equally as bad.

As a teacher and a daughter of scientists I have done a significant research before making a choice, my decision can be called an informed one. My research and my experience can not be taken away by the government decisions.

I believe where is a risk there has to be a choice.

If you read through official leaflets to vaccines, you will find side effects such as meningitis, convulsions, encephalitis, seizures, etc. That is enough for a person to stop and think if it is worth the risk.

Please, let us have a choice, make the conscientious objection form be valid and repeal the new proposed law On No Jab NO Play No Pay.

Yours sincerely
