ANSWER:

I am informed that:

As this question was asked of the former Premier, I am not in a position to respond to the question.

Premier: Ballarat Base Hospital helipad

3583. MS TIERNEY — To ask the Minister for Health (for the Premier): has the Premier met with any individual or group opposed to the placement of a helipad at the Ballarat Base Hospital, if so —

- (a) was the meeting facilitated by a member of the Liberal Party;
- (b) were any Ballarat city councillors involved; if so, which councillors; and
- (c) did the Premier indicate in the meeting that a helipad would not be placed at the hospital.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

As this question was asked of the former Premier, I am not in a position to respond to the question.

Small business: Bosch job losses

4499. MR TARLAMIS — To ask the Minister for Employment and Industrial Relations (for the Minister for Innovation, Services and Small Business): in relation to the loss of approximately 380 jobs at Bosch in Clayton that became public knowledge on or about 26 March 2011:

- (1) On what date was the minister's office advised or made aware of these job losses.
- (2) On what date was the minister advised or made aware of these job losses.

- (3) Who advised or made the minister aware of these job losses.
- (4) Who advised or made the minister's office aware of these job losses.
- (5) If the minister was advised or made aware of these job losses other than personally by a representative of Bosch, did the minister, subsequent to receiving advice or information of the losses, make personal contact with Bosch; if so, on what date did the minister make that contact.
- (6) Subsequent to receiving advice or information of the losses did the minister instruct the department to make contact with Bosch; if so, on what date did the minister give that instruction.
- (7) Did the minister make any public comments or statements about these job losses; if so, on what date or dates were those statements made.
- (8) What action did the minister take to try and maintain these jobs at Bosch.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The office of the then Minister for Innovation, Services and Small Business was not advised of Robert Bosch's restructuring plans.

As indicated by media reports at the time, neither the then federal Labor Minister for Industry, the Honourable Kim Carr, of the then Secretary of the Victorian Branch of the Australian Workers Union (and now Labor member of the Legislative Council) Cesar Melham were consulted prior to this announcement.

The Victorian coalition government is continuing to create jobs and growth in Victoria. In July 2014, the Premier and the Minister for Manufacturing announced the government's support for Robert Bosch Australia's $40 million development of its facility in Clayton. The upgrade will create 89 new jobs, secure 842 existing jobs and ensure that Bosch Australia's head office remains in Melbourne.

Premier: Ballarat Base Hospital helipad

- 8159. MS TIERNEY — To ask the Minister for Health (for the Premier): has the Premier met with any individual or group opposed to the placement of a helipad at the Ballarat Base Hospital; if so —
- (a) was the meeting facilitated by a member of the Liberal Party;
 - (b) were any Ballarat City councillors involved; if so, which councillors; and
 - (c) did the Premier indicate in the meeting that a helipad would not be placed at the Hospital.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

As this question was asked of the former Premier, I am not in a position to respond to the question.

Police and emergency services: Rowville police station

- 8248. MR LEANE — To ask the Minister for Employment and Industrial Relations (for the Minister for Police and Emergency Services): in relation to commitments made to increase operating hours at Rowville Police Station to 24 hours, has the minister instructed Victoria Police to station additional police at Rowville for:

- (1) 2011–12;
- (2) 2012–13;
- (3) 2013–14;
- (4) 2014–15; and

if so, how many additional full-time equivalent police will be provided for each of these years.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

This question was directed at the previous Minister for Police and Emergency Services, the Honourable Peter Ryan, MP. As the current Minister for Police and Emergency Services, I am responding to this question.

The government is committed to making our communities safer so families can feel safe on our streets, on public transport and in their homes. The government is providing $602 million to deliver 1700 extra frontline police members by November 2014.

Rowville is located in Division 2 of Victoria Police Eastern Region. As at end of July this year, the division has received an additional 28 full-time police officers since November 2010, boosting police numbers there by 6 per cent.

The deployment of new and existing police members across Victoria is the responsibility of the Chief Commissioner of Police, who is best placed to determine statewide policing needs, including resourcing at Rowville.

Children and early childhood development: early childhood funding

9285. MS MIKAKOS — To ask the Minister for Children and Early Childhood Development: with regard to the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development’s discontinued Child Health and Support Services, Early Childhood Education and Care and Early Childhood Intervention Services outputs, in the 2011–12 state budget how much funding was allocated to the following programs:

- (1) Aboriginal early years services;
- (2) Early childhood capital grants;
- (3) Early childhood intervention services;
- (4) Kindergarten programs and services;
- (5) Maternal and child health services;
- (6) Parenting services;
- (7) Partnerships (including Best Start, supported playgroups etc.);
- (8) Sector support (including workforce support, regulation etc.); and
- (9) Any other programs that contributed to the above outputs in 2011–12.

ANSWER:

I am informed as follows:

Program	2011–12² budget ($M)
Aboriginal Early Years Services	8.3
Early Childhood Capital Grants	21.1
Early Childhood Intervention Services	60.8
Kindergarten Program and Services	225.6
Maternal and Child Health Services	52.2
Parenting Services	6.0
Partnerships	4.0
Sector Support	20.3
Other programs and expenditure attributable to the output cost ¹	49.4
Total	447.7

- (1) Includes administrative overheads from across the department allocated to the ECD output.
- (2) 2011–12 budget information is based on published budget figures and reflect program level allocations. Note that the department changed its output structure during 2011–12 and that budget figures quoted at that time may not be comparable.
- (3) Programs relating to parenting services may be captured under the sector support category.

Children and early childhood development: early childhood funding

9286. MS MIKAKOS — To ask the Minister for Children and Early Childhood Development: with regard to the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development’s Early Childhood Development output, in the 2012–13 state budget how much funding was allocated to the following programs:

- (1) Aboriginal early years services;
- (2) Early childhood capital grants;
- (3) Early childhood intervention services;
- (4) Kindergarten programs and services;
- (5) Maternal and child health services;
- (6) Parenting services;
- (7) Partnerships (including Best Start, supported playgroups etc.);
- (8) Sector support (including workforce support, regulation etc.); and
- (9) Any other programs contributing to the early childhood development output in 2012–13.

ANSWER:

Aboriginal early years services	9.7
Early childhood capital grants	51.5
Early childhood intervention services	65.0
Kindergarten program and services	266.2
Maternal and child health services	53.4
Parenting services	7.6
Partnerships	4.2
Sector support	15.1
Other programs and expenditure attributable to the output cost ¹	34.3
Total	507.0

- (1) Includes administrative overheads from across the department allocated to the ECD output.
- (2) Budget information based on published budget figures and reflect program level allocations.
- (3) Programs relating to parenting services may be captured under the sector support category.

Water: Sugarloaf Reservoir

9795. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): how much water has been brought into Sugarloaf Reservoir each year since the Sugarloaf Pipeline was completed and which authorities have received that water.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The volumes transferred into Sugarloaf Reservoir through the north-south pipeline since completion are:

- 2009–10: 16.7 GL
- 2010–11: 7.5 GL
- 2011–12: 0 GL
- 2012–13: 0 GL
- 2013–14: 0 GL

No water was transferred in 2011–12 and 2012–13 as there was no need for the water.

Labor’s decision to build the north-south pipeline was short-sighted and ill-conceived. A simple examination of historical data shows in most years Sugarloaf Reservoir cannot store the additional water Labor proposed to take from productive irrigation north of the divide.

The water was received by City West Water, South East Water and Yarra Valley Water.

Water: Sugarloaf Reservoir

9796. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what is the cost per megalitre of water delivered into the Sugarloaf Reservoir via the Sugarloaf pipeline.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The north-south pipeline is not currently in use and therefore the actual cost per megalitre cannot be accurately measured.

However, prior to construction it was estimated that it would cost approximately $100 per megalitre (escalated to today’s dollars) just in electricity costs to bring water down to the Sugarloaf Reservoir.

Water: Sugarloaf Reservoir

9797. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what is the operating cost of the Sugarloaf pipeline to date since its commissioning.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The total operating cost of the north-south pipeline since commissioning in 2009–10 to the end of the 2012–13 financial year was $3.35 million.

This was inclusive of maintenance, energy and other minor operating costs.

It is important to note that the cost of water has increased as a result of the enormous capital cost of building the north-south pipeline and the Wonthaggi desalination plant — not because the pipeline is not operating.

Water: Sugarloaf Reservoir

9798. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what contributions have been made by each of the Melbourne authorities to the cost of the Sugarloaf pipeline and in what years were those contributions made.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The capital and operating costs of the north-south pipeline are included in Melbourne Water's total cost base, which is recovered through bulk water charges from Yarra Valley Water, City West Water, South East Water.

In line with the price setting regulatory process overseen by the Essential Services Commission, bulk water charges recover capital costs over the life of the asset, that is, a proportion is recovered each year reflecting depreciation and the cost of financing.

Water: Office of Living Victoria

9803. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what is the number of staff engaged, through direct employment or otherwise, by the Office of Living Victoria as at 31 May 2013.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The number of staff engaged, through direct employment or otherwise, by the Office of Living Victoria as at 31 May 2013, shown as full-time equivalents (FTE) was:

- 35.35 full-time or part-time staff, including agency staff.
- 9.2 staff seconded from other departments, water authorities or local government.

Water: Office of Living Victoria

9804. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what is the number and total cost of consultants engaged by the Office of Living Victoria in —

- (1) 2012–13; and
- (2) 2013–14, to date.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1) Under the relevant financial directions which applied in 2012–13, no consultants were engaged by the Office of Living Victoria.
- (2) The relevant financial directions which apply in 2013–14 have been changed from those which applied in 2012–13. In total, the number of consultancies entered into by the Office of Living Victoria in 2013–14 is 12 for a total contract value of $1.88 million.

Water: Office of Living Victoria

9806. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): what are the outputs of the Office of Living Victoria.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The outputs of the Office of Living Victoria (OLV) are detailed in OLV's business strategy, released in December 2012. The business strategy can be accessed on OLV's website at www.livingvictoria.vic.gov.au.

Water: Office of Living Victoria

9932. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): in relation to the Office of Living Victoria’s Green Paper, how can a 30 per cent reduction in wastewater discharge be achieved by introducing the capture and recycle of urban stormwater and wastewater when the large majority of wastewater flows are derived directly from households and industry.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

Reductions in the volume of wastewater discharge can be achieved by a combination of:

- reduced consumption of mains water, through, for example, more efficient buildings and appliances;
- increased use of treated wastewater in, for example, laundries and toilets; and
- greater use of treated wastewater for irrigating food and fibre crops and a range of other outdoor purposes, such as watering parks, gardens and sporting ovals.

Water: Office of Living Victoria

9933. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): in relation to the Office of Living Victoria’s Green Paper, why does the Green Paper claim a purported annual reduction of 304 tonnes of nitrogen in wastewater resulting from a ‘whole of water cycle approach’ is ‘significant’ when approximately 20 000 tonnes of nitrogen is received at the two major treatment plants each year.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

High levels of nitrogen can lead to poor waterway health and can cause excessive growth of algae, which leads to reduced oxygen levels in the water. Algal blooms threaten animals, plants and fish living in bays and waterways and as a result, lead to an overall change to the balance of the ecosystem.

Any level of reduction in nitrogen loads warrants the description ‘significant’.

Ageing: Dunmunkle Health Service

10 475. MS MIKAKOS — To ask the Minister for Ageing: with regard to the Dunmunkle Health Service Report 2012–13:

- (1) In relation to the ‘Financial Viability & Service’ Review undertaken by the health service —
 - (a) has this review been completed and what were the outcomes;
 - (b) has the Dunmunkle Health Service advised the Department of Health of any plans as a result of this review.
- (2) In relation to the department-funded fabric survey of the Rupanyup Nursing Home —
 - (a) what was the non-compliance identified at the Rupanyup Nursing Home;
 - (b) how was this non-compliance addressed;
 - (c) what was the result of the fabric survey;
 - (d) how much funding did the Victorian government provide for the urgent works required to bring the building up to an acceptable standard;
 - (e) has the Dunmunkle Health Service advised the Department of Health of any plans to seek funds for further works.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1)(a) Proposals before health service boards are not public information. Under Victoria's devolved governance model, individual health services source advice and make their own decisions about public health and aged-care service delivery.
- (1)(b) Dunmunkle Health Services has advised the department that it is further investigating options to ensure an ongoing sustainable health service for the community.
- (2)(a) The reference contained in the Dunmunkle Health Services Annual Report 2012–13 to 'non-compliance' relates to an Aged Care Standards and Accreditation Agency visit and not to the department funded fabric survey.
- (2)(b) The specific details of this finding and how it was addressed are matters between Dunmunkle Health Services and the commonwealth Aged Care Standards and Accreditation Agency (now Australian Aged Care Quality Agency).
- (2)(c) The report from the fabric survey indicated that in general, the fabric and infrastructure for Rupanyup Nursing Home is in a serviceable condition. It is further noted that the building was granted residential aged-care certification by the commonwealth in 2013 as a result of meeting all applicable requirements.
- (2)(d) $200 000 was provided by the department for urgent renovations directed at enhancing the living environment for residents. These works contributed toward the Dunmunkle Health Services' ability to achieve accreditation until 21 August 2016. This stands in stark contrast to spending on the Rupanyup Nursing Home under Labor, with only $4565 spent between 2005–06 and 2008–09.
- (2)(e) Yes.

Ageing: business practice improvement project

10 478. MS MIKAKOS — To ask the Minister for Ageing: with regard to the business practice improvement project:

- (1) What does the project entail.
- (2) Does it relate to the consolidation of residential aged-care places.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1) The business practice improvement project is an initiative currently being undertaken in the Hume region that has supported all seventeen regional public sector residential aged-care services to review their accounting practices to ensure consistency and to then allow services to benchmark with their peers for all cost and revenue streams associated with residential aged care.
- (2) The project does not relate to any consolidation of residential aged-care places.
- (3) The Victorian government is pleased to support rural aged-care services as evidenced by significant injection of investment since coming to office, including:
 - $4 million in capital support under the government's RCFS
 - more than $12 million in minor capital equipment grants
 - $18 million for the Swan Hill District Health aged-care redevelopment
 - more than $140 million for redeveloping health services with aged-care facilities at Kerang and Charlton

- The 2014–15 budget allocation of $14 million for the new Boort hospital, including a 25-bed residential aged-care facility.

Police and emergency services: firearms

10 496. MS PENNICUIK — To ask the Minister for Planning (for the Minister for Police and Emergency Services):

- (1) How many, and what type of firearms were imported into Victoria in 2013.
- (2) How many, and what type of firearms were manufactured in Victoria in 2013.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

- (1) The table below includes firearms imported into Victoria for the period of 1 January 2013 to 31 December 2013:

A — Longarms	36 610
B — Longarms	27 009
C — Longarms	753
D — Longarms	3
E — Longarms	17
H — Handgun	1104
P — Paintball	326
Q — Antique Handgun	33
Total	65 855

Explanatory notes: (to be read in conjunction with above table)

1. This data includes firearms already registered to Victorian’s who are subject to an import permit (e.g. instances where persons are taking them on a holiday or bringing them back into Victoria for professional competitions etc).
 2. The vast majority of firearms imported into Victoria are by Licenced Firearms Dealers, as four of Australia’s largest importers of firearms operate out of Victoria.
- (2) There were no firearms manufactured during the period.

Police and emergency services: East Gippsland bushfires

10 497. MR BARBER — To ask the Minister for Planning (for the Minister for Police and Emergency Services): in relation to each of the Goongerah-Deddick, Glenaladale and Walkerville fires in East Gippsland in 2014:

- (1) What was the cost of hiring contract workers and their machinery.
- (2) What was the cost of staff bonus payments, and to how many staff were those bonus payments made in the —
 - (a) Department of Environment and Primary Industries; and
 - (b) Country Fire Authority.
- (3) What was the cost of overtime payments, and to how many staff were overtime payments made in the —
 - (a) Department of Environment and Primary Industries; and
 - (b) Country Fire Authority.

- (4) What was the total cost of fire control operations.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

Every year, the Victorian coalition government allocates funding to assist our hardworking career and volunteer firefighters, who are at the frontline keeping Victorians safe.

The government always sets aside additional funding for natural disasters within the state budget. This funding meets additional costs that may occur including the costs associated with the recent East Gippsland fires.

Additional costs for the recent bushfire season such as overtime, accommodation, meals, additional use of contractors, vehicles and equipment will be made public in the Annual Financial Report to be tabled in Parliament around October, as has always been the case.

Education: Department of Education and Early Childhood Development

9250. MS HARTLAND — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Education): in relation to the consolidation of department of education regions into four regions, job losses in the department, and given department of education staff who, outside of normal duties, had responsibilities to provide support in times of emergency incidents as part of local Emergency Response Teams such as opening schools for fire refuges, providing catering to CFA workers, or cancelling school buses when there was a fire threat:

- (1) How many staff members worked in department of education regional service centres (i.e. in Geelong, Ballarat, Bendigo, Benalla, Moe, Warrnambool, Horsham, Mildura, Swan Hill, Shepparton, Sale, Bairnsdale and other sub-regional offices) at the start of this term of government.
- (2) How many staff members currently work in department of education regional service centres and what has the reduction in staff been during this term of government.
- (5) At the start of this term of government, how many department of education staff based in regional offices had responsibilities, beyond their normal duties, to respond to emergency incidents in the community, such as in schools and other locations outside of their office workplace, and formed part of the emergency response teams.
- (7) At the start of this term of government, how many staff located in metropolitan service centres had formal duties as part of their position, to respond to emergency incidents.
- (8) How many staff located in metropolitan service centres currently have formal duties as part of their position to respond to emergency incidents.

ANSWER:

[Question 9250, parts 1, 2, 5, 7 and 8 reinstated by order of President on 7 May 2013. Hansard reference to original answer: 17 April 2013 page 1353]

I am informed as follows:

- (1) It is difficult from the department’s records to establish directly comparable data on the staffing position in regional offices over time. A major change is the shift to principal-led networks of Specialist Student Support officers previously managed through the department’s regional offices. These staff have in the past been available, and continue to be available, to respond to critical incidents and provide an emergency response.

The department’s records indicate that at June 2012 the full-time equivalent (FTE) VPS staffing numbers in regional centres prior to the department’s reorganisation were as follows:

BELMONT	1	HORSHAM	4.5
GEELONG	39.3	BENALLA	32.4
WARRNAMBOOL	3.4	WODONGA	1
BAIRNSDALE	0.6	BENDIGO	42.3
CHURCHILL	0.5	KENNINGTON	0.5
MOE	39.7	MILDURA	4.5
ARARAT	2.2	SWAN HILL	3
BALLARAT	36.7

The numbers above do not include non-VPS staff, such as Specialist Children’s Services, early childhood staff and Koorie Education Support, based in regional offices that could provide additional support during an emergency.

While Student Support Services officers were returned to school networks in July 2012 they remained available to support regional and school staff in managing emergencies.

(2) The department’s records indicate that VPS staffing numbers (FTE) at January 2013 are as follows:

BELMONT	Not available	HORSHAM	8.2
GEELONG	35.4	BENALLA	31.3
WARRNAMBOOL	10.5	WODONGA	8.0
BAIRNSDALE	1.5	BENDIGO	52.1
CHURCHILL	Not available	KENNINGTON	Not available
MOE	36.4	MILDURA	13.1
ARARAT	4.1	SWAN HILL	7.9
BALLARAT	40.7

These numbers do not include teaching staff who were returned to schools.

(5), (7) & (8). At the start of this term of government approximately 60 FTE based in regional service centres had formal emergency management responsibilities, and approximately 33 FTE in metropolitan centres were formally delegated emergency management duties. In the new regional structure, there are approximately 124 roles (up to 31 roles within each of the four regions) with formally delegated emergency management responsibilities across rural and metropolitan centres. These roles are flexible across regions, providing greater surge capacity to combine regional and metropolitan resources to respond to emergencies wherever they occur in the state.

At the start of this term of government there was an expectation — as there is now — that all staff in regional offices could be called on to respond to emergency incidents as required. All members of emergency management teams are trained in the department’s emergency management response protocols.

Water: north-south pipeline

9794. MR LENDERS — To ask the Minister for Higher Education and Skills (for the Minister for Water): As the government has announced that the north–south pipe will not be used until the level of Melbourne reservoirs is below 30 per cent:

- (1) What is the asset value of the north–south pipe in the accounts of the relevant authorities.
- (2) What is the reduction in the value of authorities’ assets as a result of the non-use of the pipe and what proportion of the increase in metropolitan water prices can be attributed to this reduction.
- (3) Has this write down of asset value been approved by independent auditors and/or the Auditor-General, and, if so, on what dates were these audits completed and where are those audit results recorded.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1) Coalition government policy states that the north–south pipeline will not be used until such time as Melbourne’s total water storage levels are below 30 per cent of capacity at 30 November.
- (2) The asset value of the north–south pipeline in Melbourne Water’s accounts is $595 479 117. This is the result of fair value depreciation in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards board 13.

- (3) The north–south pipeline asset value has not been reduced as a result of the coalition government’s sensible changes as the pipeline is still available for critical human needs.
- (4) Based on the answer for question (2), independent auditor and/or Auditor-General approvals have not been sought to write down the north–south pipeline asset value in any of the audits completed. Melbourne Water’s financial statements are audited by the Auditor-General at the end of each financial year. Those statements reflected the depreciation of the north–south pipeline.

Health: Monash Children’s hospital

10 035. MR TARLAMIS — To ask the Minister for Health: in relation to the new Monash Children’s hospital:

- (1) How much money has been spent up to this point by the Baillieu-Napthine government on the hospital.
- (2) How many mental health beds will be provided at the hospital.
- (3) How much money has been allocated to the project in the 2013–14 financial year.
- (4) How much money will be allocated to the project in the 2014–15 financial year.
- (5) Will the hospital house a specialised early years and adolescent mental health service.
- (6) Will the hospitals tree house play equipment and model railway be ready for use when the hospital opens.
- (7) What month in 2016 does the government estimate the construction of the hospital will be complete.
- (8) Will the hospital contain a learning and education centre for patients.
- (9) Will the hospital have a specialised eating disorders clinic.
- (10) Will the hospital have a specialised sleep laboratory.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1) Planning for the new Monash Children’s hospital is being finalised and a Managing Contractor has been appointed. Little detailed information will be available until the project is further progressed. To end March 2014 expenditure totalled $9 558 810.
- (2) There will be 28 beds providing special mental health services for children and teens. I note that the previous plans for the Monash Children’s hospital by the previous Labor government were never implemented.
- (3) Sufficient funds have been allocated in the 2011–12, 2012–13 and the 2013–2014 financial years to ensure the project progresses on track.
- (4) The government has committed to fully funding the Monash Children’s hospital project and will provide the necessary cash flow to deliver the project in the announced time frame.

In 2002 and 2003 serious work was done in the south-east in those studies that made it very clear that there was a need for additional paediatric and children’s services there, and the concept of a Monash Children’s was developed. But there was no money allocated by the then Labor government and no resources were put forward to deliver on that.

I was proud to be at the Monash Children’s hospital development to see one of the first steps taken with the announcement of the appointment of the managing contract to Baulderstone. It was something Labor did not commit to do over 11 years.

- (5) The Monash Children’s hospital at Clayton provides a specialist early years and adolescent mental health service and that will continue.
- (6) Appropriate play and activity equipment will be provided at the time the hospital opens.

Consultation with parents and children will contribute to the selection of suitable equipment.

- (7) The Managing Contractor has been appointed and the government expects the successful tenderer to complete the new building in 2016.
- (8) A learning and education centre is already provided by the existing child and adolescent mental health service. That will continue.
- (9) A specialist eating disorders service is and will continue to be provided from a variety of inpatient and outpatient facilities at Monash Children's hospital depending on the health status of the child.
- (10) A four-bed specialist sleep laboratory currently operates at Level 5, Block D of the Monash Medical Centre. An allowance has been made (in shell) for the future expansion of this specialist unit to six beds in the new facility.

Corrections: prison populations

10 061. MS PENNICUIK — To ask the Minister for Corrections: in relation to the increase in prisoner numbers in Victoria in the last 12 months:

- (1) Why has there been a 25 per cent increase in Victoria's female prison population.
- (2) Is specific data being collected on the impact of suspended sentences and home detention on the prison population and if not, why not.
- (3) Is specific data being collected on the impact of denied bail applications on the prison population and if not, why not.
- (4) If data is available on the impact of breaches of parole on the prison population, why is it not available as to where the increase in prisoners is occurring, that is whether in high, medium or low security prisons in Victoria.
- (5) With regard to the 47 per cent increase in prison population that is attributable to refusal or breach of parole, what number or percentage of parole breaches involved the commission of an offence and what number or percentage involved breaches of parole conditions.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

The recent growth in female prisoner numbers is due to a number of factors, including an increase in the number of women remanded in custody, an increase in parole cancellations, and an increase in the number of women receiving sentences for other (non-breach of parole) offences.

The Sentencing Advisory Council monitors trends on sentencing outcomes and regularly publishes its reports.

Prisoner projections are developed based on historical data, including historical imprisonment rates, sentence lengths, and general population projections. Projections also consider expected future changes to sentencing policy, police operations, and criminal justice trends.

Parole data is collected for each of the maximum, medium and minimum-security prisons. Data is also collected as part of the adult parole board's new case management system including data under the new Corrections Amendment (Breach of Parole) Act 2013.

Attorney-General: Family and Community Development Committee child abuse inquiry

10 128. MS MIKAKOS — To ask the Minister for Liquor and Gaming Regulation (for the Attorney-General): in relation to the 15 recommendations in the Betrayal of Trust inquiry report:

- (1) How many recommendations have been fully implemented as at 1 April 2014, and, of these, what has occurred in respect of these recommendations.

- (2) How many recommendations have been partly implemented as at 1 April 2014, and, of these, what has occurred in respect of these recommendations.
- (3) How many recommendations have had no action taken as at 1 April 2014.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

The government's response to the Betrayal of Trust report was tabled in the Victorian Parliament on 8 May 2014. In that response, the government provided in principle support for all of the report's recommendations.

As indicated in the government's response, work to implement the report's recommendations is occurring in three phases:

1. the immediate protection of children and new criminal law offences;
2. new measures to strengthen organisations' approaches to preventing and responding to child abuse; and
3. civil law reform and redress.

Legislation creating three new criminal offences: a grooming offence, a failure to protect offence, and a failure to disclose offence has already been passed by the Parliament. Legislation to require ministers of religion to obtain working with children checks has also now passed Parliament. Further legislation to implement recommendations in relation to schools is now before the Parliament.

The government has allocated $10.1 million in funding to the Department of Justice and the commission for Children and Young People (CCYP) to implement the recommendations that will strengthen the capacity of organisations to prevent and respond to child abuse. This funding will enable the staged introduction of minimum child safety standards for organisations with a responsibility for children. Oversight of organisations will also be improved by developing a reportable conduct scheme, which will require all allegations of child sexual abuse to be reported to the CCYP.

Work is continuing in relation to law reform and redress, including legislation to give effect to the government's commitment to end inappropriate time limitations and impediments with respect to access for justice for victims of child abuse.

As part of the response to Betrayal of Trust, the government has also introduced Common Guiding Principles which provide guidance on how government department should respond to civil claims involving allegations of child sexual abuse. Amongst other things, these principles note that the state will not ordinarily rely on a limitations defence in regard to these claims.

Health: graduate nurse program

10 135. MR JENNINGS — To ask the Minister for Health: in relation to the Graduate Nursing Program (GNP):

- (1) What was the exact number of students who applied for a GNP position in —
 - (a) 2014;
 - (b) 2013;
 - (c) 2012; and
 - (d) 2011.
- (2) What was the exact number of students who were offered a GNP position in —
 - (a) 2014;
 - (b) 2013;
 - (c) 2012; and

- (d) 2011.
- (3) Why was the information outlined in question 1 and 2 not made publicly available.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

- (1) (a) Exact numbers are not known
 (b) Exact numbers are not known
 (c) Exact numbers are not known
 (d) Exact numbers are not known

Students/Graduates can apply for Graduate Nurse Program (GNP) positions by:

- participating in the Post Graduate Medical Council of Victoria’s online computer matching service (computer match) for the Graduate Nurse/Midwifery Program (GNMP) that occurs each year on the third Tuesday in October
- applying directly to organisations that do not participate in the computer match process (private, not-for-profit health services and aged care facilities)
- applying for positions as further vacancies become available in various organisations throughout the year.

Although the total number of students/graduates who apply for a GNP via computer match each year is known, it is not possible to estimate the numbers who apply directly to organisations that do not participate in the computer match, or the numbers who apply for positions that become available throughout the year. Hence, the exact total number of students/graduates who apply for a GNP position each year is not known.

- (2) (a) Exact numbers are not known
 (b) Exact numbers are not known
 (c) Exact numbers are not known
 (d) Exact numbers are not known

Students/Graduates can be offered a Graduate Nurse Program (GNP) position:

- if they are successfully matched in the computer match process
- if they are successful in their direct application to an organisation that does not participate in the computer match process
- if they are successful in applying for a position that becomes available in any organisation during the year.

Although the total number of students/graduates who are matched for a GNP position via computer match each year is known, it is not possible to determine the numbers who are offered a GNP position by organisations that do not participate in the computer match or by organisations that have vacancies become available during the year. Hence, the exact total number of students/graduates who are offered a GNP position each year is not known.

- (3) The information outlined in question 1 and 2 was not made publicly available because the information is not known.

- (1) The government restructured the Service Agreement for delivery of public hospital patient services under the provisions of PART 3A of the Health Services Act. Under the restructure agreement, the Motor Traders Association of Australia (MTAA) agreed to surrender the 99-year lease of the site, transfer the building plant and equipment on site to the state, and forego their service delivery franchise. In exchange, the government has made a restructure fee payment to the MTAA. The fee was agreed as a single sum and has not been disaggregated to the various benefits attained by the state. I note that John Brumby was the Chair of the MTAA.

- (2) The original Mildura hospital contract was due to expire in 2015. Under the then existing contract MTAA owned the hospital on expiry of the contract term. If the state was to continue to provide hospital services to the Mildura community, then either the state leased the hospital from MTAA, or purchased it, or built a new hospital to enable services to be delivered. An analysis of the merits of each option was undertaken, including consideration of value for money, before the government's determination to restructure the Service Agreement.

A key outcome of the restructuring the Mildura Service Agreement was the return of the hospital assets to public ownership. Once the government had control of the hospital assets, it was able to progress the construction of improvements to the Emergency department, maternity ward and mental health services as promised before the election with a total investment of $7 million ($5 million budgeted state funds, bolstered with $2 million of commonwealth funds).

Subsequently Mildura Base Hospital has also benefitted from the Rural Capital Support Fund with allocations of

- $430 000 for an additional 4 chemotherapy chairs, counselling room, isolation room and new accommodation for clinical staff.
- $425 000 for expansion of the existing Aboriginal Healing Centre.
- $119 000 for redevelopment of the Special Care Nursery.
- $285 000 to upgrade two sterilisers.

Consistent with existing contracts, Ramsay Health has been subcontracted to operate the hospital. Ramsay's tenure was extended based on an analysis of value for money and their performance relative to comparable hospitals.

- (a) The public interest has been served by the performance of Ramsay Health as operators of the hospital up to the performance review in 2013. As reported by the independent review
- More than 80 per cent of public hospital admissions of people from the Sunraysia catchment are admissions to the Mildura Base Hospital. This is a higher level of self-sufficiency than achieved by other Victorian hospitals of a similar size and function
 - The hospital meets or exceeds targets and expectations in most areas of clinical performance.
 - Service delivery was found to be 93 per cent compliant with the 417 requirements included in the contract.
 - The hospital has provided the required numbers of services, and has generally met service performance targets.
 - The necessary systems and processes are in place to manage risks and improve the standards of services provided in keeping with contemporary expectations
 - The public interest is further served by the return of control of the site to the government, thus allowing the implementation of the $7 million facility expansion to the Emergency department, Maternity ward, and Mental Health accommodation promised by the government. All components of the project have now reached lock up stage, and the scheduled completion date is December 2014
- (b) Value for money has been achieved in two ways —
- The total cost of the Service Agreement restructure is substantially less than the cost of other options available to the state while the contractors continued to control the land and assets, as well as the public health service franchise.
 - The cost to the state of the delivery of health services to public patients at the hospital is comparable to the cost of delivering those services elsewhere in Victorian sub regional hospitals.
- (c) Broader service outcomes
- The company is required to provide such data as required to demonstrate performance consistent with performance measures, outcome measures and service delivery standards which may be developed or adopted by the state or the commonwealth (Schedule 13)

- This requirement ensures that the company’s performance can be assessed against the still developing range of performance standards emerging from the National Health Reform agenda.
- (3) Completion of an annual Statement of Priorities (SoP) is required and is available on the same website as public hospitals.
- (4) The Service Agreement requires the company to establish complaint management procedures and to monitor and redress complaints about the provision of services in a responsive, prompt, and effective manner.

If there are difficulties in resolving complaints directly with the service provider, the office of the Health Services Commissioner will assist health service users to resolve complaints about health service providers and improve the quality of healthcare.

The Health Services Commissioner’s office provides a free and confidential service. The office can accept complaints about anyone who claims to provide a health service or anyone who holds health information. This includes private and public hospitals, and individual health professionals

Complaints can be lodged with the Health Services Commissioner by health service users, or if the user of the health service is unable to complain, the commissioner can accept complaints from relatives, friends or guardians, a health service provider or anyone with sufficient interest if the user gives consent or is unable to make a complaint themselves.

- (5) As already stated, the Health Services Commissioner can provide a confidential service.
- (6) In line with usual practice, it is anticipated that the contract will be placed on the government Contract website once contractual confidentiality issues have been resolved.
- (7) Under the Service Agreement in operation in 2013–14, the department contracted with the MTAA for that agency to provide a specified number and type of services, which met the quality standards specified in the agreement, at a specified price. That price was set in a comparable manner to the price for other Victorian sub regional services.

The Agreement provided for financial penalties where volumes were not delivered, or quality standards not achieved. Further, MTAA, and their sub-contractors Ramsay Health, accepted the risks associated with service volumes and the costs of service delivery.

Thus the commercial model in place did not correspond with the model inherent in the question. So long as the services were delivered as required by the contract, the financial impact on the contractors was not a concern of the department.

Health: bushfire prevention

10 500. MR BARBER — To ask the Minister for Health: in relation to respiratory and cardiac complaints in proximity to planned burning:

- (1) Are records kept at hospitals and healthcare services of attendance and are they collated by the government to determine health impacts, and, if not, why not, and, if so —
 - (a) where are those records kept; and
 - (b) do the records show an increase of respiratory and cardiac problems associated with the smoke from fuel reduction burning.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

I wish to reiterate that planned burns have to strike a balance between protecting the safety of the communities living in areas of higher risk of fire with the short term effects of smoke on air quality. Planned burning is carried out to reduce bushfire risk to human life, communities, essential services and community infrastructure, industry, the economy and the environment.

- (a) The Victorian Admitted Episodes dataset (VAED) collates hospital discharge data compiled by individual private and public hospitals in Victoria. This dataset contains de-identified demographic and clinical information on each episode of patient care, with the clinical information coded and is maintained by the Victorian Department of Health. Similarly the Victorian Emergency Minimum Dataset (VEMD) collates information from presentations to Victorian hospital emergency departments. Persons admitted to hospital via the emergency department are recorded in both the VEMD and the VAED. The primary purpose for the collection of both data sets is to ensure appropriate funding of hospitals and service planning rather than for health impact assessment.
- (b) It is difficult determine whether there are health impacts associated with geographical fuel reduction burning using the VAED and VEMD datasets. Factors that influence the association include the relatively small populations impacted, geographical spread, varying exposure levels and duration of exposure to smoke. In order to assess if there are health impacts associated with smoke from fuel reduction burning a broader review of health-related data would be required, rather than simply reviewing hospital discharge and emergency department presentation data.
