Western Health emergency department

Raised with: Minister for Health

Raised by: Mr Eideh

Raised on: 28 November 2013

REPLY:

A range of initiatives have been undertaken by the government to improve ambulance patient transfer times into emergency departments (ED).

In 2011, the government introduced a new target for the transfer of ambulance patients at public hospital EDs of 90 per cent to occur within 40 minutes. Also, a Health Services Performance website has been established which reports performance of Victoria's public hospitals, including ambulance patient transfer times.

Specific funding of $12.9 million (over four years) was provided to hospitals in 2011 to support initiatives to improve ambulance patient transfer times.

The Ambulance Taskforce Report, released in November 2013 outlined a whole of system approach to improved ambulance transfers into the ED. Work to implement these recommendations has commenced.

These investments, combined with ongoing work being undertaken by ambulance and health service staff, have assisted in Western Hospital improving its performance against the statewide indicator by 3 per cent for quarter 1, 2013–14, compared to the same time the previous year.

I note under the previous Labor government, when Daniel Andrews was the Health Minister, transfer times were kept secret and Labor refused release of this important data, which is now released regularly by the coalition government.
