Women’s affairs: ministerial councils, task forces and committees

9508. MR DALLA-RIVA — To ask the Minister for Planning (for the Minister for Women’s Affairs): What are the names of all the Ministerial Councils, Taskforces and Committees which reported to and/or provided advice and input to the Minister in 2008 and 2009.

ANSWER:

I am advised that:

I receive advice from multiple sources, including taskforces established by the government and other bodies outside government which send information to me as Minister for Women’s Affairs. It is not possible to accumulate accurate lists of all the sources of advice received by me as Minister for Women’s Affairs for the years listed in your question.

Education: advertising

9588. MR D. M. DAVIS — To ask the Treasurer (for the Minister for Education): In relation to page 90 of the Public Accounts and Estimates Committee’s Report on the 2008–09 Budget Estimates — Part Three, which notes that ‘The Committee has found it difficult, analysing available information, to obtain consistent year on year comparisons [of Departmental aggregate advertising and promotional expenditure]’: What was the expenditure on advertising, communications and promotions by the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development including any statutory authorities and government-related entities for which the Department has responsibility in —

- (a) 2007–08, and
- (b) 2008–09.

ANSWER:

I am informed as follows:

The Department of Education and Early Childhood Development provides information to parents, families, children, students and the community around Victoria about the Victorian education and early childhood system and the services available. This involves nine metropolitan and rural regions, approximately 1600 government schools and more than 4000 licensed children’s services.

To answer this question, the Department would be required to examine accounts and invoices charged to particular cost codes, then determine if they were relevant to the answer. This would place an unreasonable burden on the resources of the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development.

Education: advertising expenditure and media and communications staff

9661. MR D. M. DAVIS — To ask the Treasurer (for the Minister for Education): For the financial years 2007–08 and 2008–09, what was the total amount spent on advertising and promotion by the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development and how many full-time equivalent staff were employed in media, public relations and communications roles by the Department.

ANSWER:

Education: merit protection and disciplinary appeals boards — advertising expenditure and media and communications staff

9670. MR D. M. DAVIS — To ask the Treasurer (for the Minister for Education): For the financial years 2007–08 and 2008–09, what was the total amount spent on advertising and promotion by Merit Protection Boards/Disciplinary Appeals Boards and how many full-time equivalent staff were employed in media, public relations and communications roles by Merit Protection Boards/Disciplinary Appeals Boards.

ANSWER:

I am informed as follows:

The Merit Protection Boards spent nil on advertising and promotion in 2007–08 and 2008–09.

No staff are allocated to these functions.

Community services: Suitability Panel — advertising expenditure and media and communications staff

9700. MR D. M. DAVIS — To ask the Minister for Environment and Climate Change (for the Minister for Community Services): For the financial years 2007–08 and 2008–09, what was the total amount spent on advertising and promotion by the Suitability Panel and how many full-time equivalent staff were employed in media, public relations and communications roles by the Suitability Panel.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The Suitability Panel established a website in 2007–08 to provide information to the out of home care sector and to carers who may be appearing before the Panel, at a cost of $7450 (which includes Panel logo design).

In 2008–09 the Suitability Panel expended $3624 on publication and printing of information booklets, and for updating and maintaining their website.

The Suitability Panel's Executive Officer spends a very small proportion of her time in the aforementioned roles.

Education: physical education and sport

10 072. MRS PEULICH — To ask the Treasurer (for the Minister for Education): How many State Government Secondary Schools offer the subjects Physical Education or Sport as a compulsory subject, providing a breakdown for Year 7 through to Year 12.

ANSWER:

I am informed as follows:

This government recognises that engaging in physical activity, games, sport and outdoor recreation contributes to improved wellbeing and health of young Victorians. It also contributes to social connectedness and community cohesion.

From 2008, each government school has reported the achievement for each student from Year 1 to Year 10 against the Victorian Essential Learning Standards for the Health and Physical Education domain. Teacher judgements of students' achievement are reported according to ratings A to E. These ratings form a baseline for monitoring the performance of cohorts of students against these standards.

A publication, Improving School Sport and Physical Education in your school, has been launched recently to assist schools to develop physical education and school sport programs.

There are no requirements for schools to offer these subjects at years 11 and 12. However in 2009

- 268 government secondary schools offered VCE Physical Education
- 127 government secondary schools offered VCE Outdoor Education and Environmental Studies
- 43 government secondary schools offered VCE Dance
- 68 government secondary schools offered VET in Schools Dance certificates
- 50 government secondary schools offered VET in Schools Culture and Recreation certificates
- 37 government secondary schools offered VET in Schools Outdoor Education certificates

This information is sourced from the VCAA Online Schools and Study Search facility.

This indicates the diverse curriculum available for students in Years 11 and 12 in the areas of physical education, physical activity, games, sport and outdoor recreation through the two senior secondary certificates, VCE (Victorian Certificate of Education) and VCAL (Victorian Certificate of Applied Learning).

Community services: disability residential services — Barwon-south western region

10 126. MR DALLA-RIVA — To ask the Minister for Environment and Climate Change (for the Minister for Community Services): In relation to State Government expenditure for Disability Residential Services in the Barwon South West Region in 2007–08 and 2008–09:

- (2) How much was spent on respite in the Region for each of the years.
- (3) How much was spent on Shared Supported Accommodation in the Region for each of the years.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The disability service system includes three types of accommodation:

- Shared Supported Accommodation services (SSAs) — community-based housing with a small number of residents. SSAs form the most significant part of disability residential services and have been a primary focus of growth as part of the disability reform process.
 - Residential Respite — providing facility-based respite to the families and carers of people with a disability.
 - Residential Care services (formerly known as Residential Institutions) — residential services which are based on a now outdated institutional model of care.
- (1) Under the Victorian State Disability Plan 2002–2012, this Government is working to continue to progress reform of the disability service system to give Victorians with a disability greater choice and control over the supports they receive. This includes implementing individualised planning and support approaches and, as much as possible, giving individuals with a disability a choice of where they live, and with whom. As part of this reform process the Government is progressing to close outdated institutions and moving to the provision of support for people with a disability to live in other settings in the community.

The three remaining Residential Care services and their funding are:

	2007–08	2008–09
Colanda	$15.7M	$15.8M
Sandhurst	$4.1M	$4.2M

Community services: disability residential services — Loddon Mallee region

10 131. MR DALLA-RIVA — To ask the Minister for Environment and Climate Change (for the Minister for Community Services): In relation to State Government expenditure for Disability Residential Services in the Loddon Mallee Region in 2007–08 and 2008–09:

- (1) How much was spent on residential care in the Region for each of the years.
- (2) How much was spent on respite in the Region for each of the years.
- (3) How much was spent on Shared Supported Accommodation in the Region for each of the years.

ANSWER:

I am informed that:

The disability service system includes three types of accommodation:

- Shared Supported Accommodation services (SSAs) — community-based housing with a small number of residents. SSAs form the most significant part of disability residential services and have been a primary focus of growth as part of the disability reform process.
- Residential Respite — providing facility-based respite to the families and carers of people with a disability.
- Residential Care services (formerly known as Residential Institutions) — residential services which are based on a now outdated institutional model of care.

- (1) Under the Victorian State Disability Plan 2002–2012, this Government is working to continue to progress reform of the disability service system to give Victorians with a disability greater choice and control over the supports they receive. This includes implementing individualised planning and support approaches and, as much as possible, giving individuals with a disability a choice of where they live, and with whom. As part of this reform process the Government is progressing to close outdated institutions and moving to the provision of support for people with a disability to live in other settings in the community.

The three remaining Residential Care services and their funding are:

	2007–08	2008–09
Colanda	$15.7M	$15.8M
Sandhurst	$4.1M	$4.2M
One unit at Plenty Residential Services	Not available as a separate budget item
Total (not including Plenty)	$19.8M	$20M
