First Annual Report of the Motor Accidents Board

The Hon. J. F. Rossiter, M.P.,
Chief Secretary,
Spring Street,
Melbourne.

Sir,

1. This is the first Report of the Motor Accidents Board pursuant to Section 86 of the Motor Accidents Act 1973.

The Act received Royal Assent on 17th April, 1973. The main administrative provisions were brought into force on 19th September, 1973 (including the appointment of the Board) and the benefit provisions on 12th February, 1974.

The members of the Board are—

Victor Henry Arnold, F.I.A., A.A.I.I., A.S.A., Chairman ;

Sir Benjamin Keith Rank, C.M.G., M.B., M.S., L.R.C.P., F.R.C.S., F.R.A.C.S., F.A.C.S. ; and

Jack Stanley Barwick, A.A.I.I., A.A.S.A.

2. THE NO FAULT SCHEME

The broad object of the legislation is to provide a substantial part of the personal injury losses and expenses incurred by road accident victims regardless of negligence. Such a system is commonly referred to as a 'no fault' scheme, whereby payment is made to and in respect of practically all accident victims including what amounts to a pre-payment of the bulk of special damages to those who elect to proceed at common law. Thus common law rights are left intact and the 'no fault' benefits should enable a common law claimant to avoid any premature settlements due to the financial pressures caused by unpaid medical and hospital accounts and loss of wages. Under the previous system less than 55 per cent. of casualties received any benefit.

To qualify for such payments the accident must have occurred in Victoria. Additionally the person concerned must have been a resident in Victoria or one motor car registered in Victoria must have been involved in the accident or the motor car concerned must have been unidentifiable. Persons in or on railway trains, tramcars, tram motors or omnibuses are not eligible unless an agreement as provided in Sections 71 to 74 has been made between the authority operating such railway trains, omnibuses etc., and the Motor Accidents Board. No such agreements have yet been entered into. Loss of income benefits are not payable in respect of a person who is injured as a result of an accident and is convicted of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a drug or if being a driver he has never held a licence, or if his licence had been suspended or cancelled at the time of the accident, or being the owner of the car he was an occupant of an uninsured car ; also if the person had been using the motor car in the commission of certain criminal offences or was in the motor car and the accident took place other than on a highway taking part in a race or trial.

Appropriate provisions have been made covering learner drivers. Where workers compensation benefits appear to be payable in respect of a person who is injured or killed the Board is not required to make payments in respect of that injury or death but it has the power to make payments if it so determines. The intention is that the Board shall pay the benefits or part thereof not covered under workers compensation provisions.

3. The liability of the Board to make payments in respect of persons who are killed or injured falls under the following headings:

- (a) Ambulance Services
- (b) Medical Services
- (c) Hospital Services
- (d) Nursing Services
- (e) Therapeutic Services
- (f) Medicines and curative appliances
- (g) Replacement of housekeeping services
- (h) Other reasonable costs or expenses

- (i) Funeral expenses
- (j) Compensation for loss of income to the injured persons
- (k) Payments to dependants for loss of income in respect of deceased persons.

To obtain such payments the initial application for benefits must be made within three years of the injury or death.

4. The Board's activities and policy under each of these headings is detailed below :—

(a) Ambulance Services

Section 67 provides that the Board may enter into an agreement with an ambulance service in respect of the payment by the Board of reasonable fees for injured persons requiring ambulance service, in Victoria.

Interim agreements have been entered into with twenty-one ambulance services as detailed in Appendix 1.

The preparation of a suitable formal agreement is proceeding. The effect of the agreement is to provide ambulance service at no cost to the persons injured.

Briefly the agreement provides that subject to the qualifications stated previously in this report as to residency, accident in Victoria etc., the ambulance service will submit accounts directly to the Board and the Board will pay the "reasonable" cost of the various services rendered in Victoria in full discharge of the patient's liability.

If ambulance service is provided where there is no such agreement Section 30 provides that 70 per cent. of the reasonable cost will be paid by the Board provided it occurs within five years of the date of accident. Since the Act provides that the service must have been rendered in Victoria, only mileage within Victoria can be the subject of payment. This has caused disappointment to some injured persons who regard themselves as adversely affected when transport to another State is unavoidable.

(b) Medical Services

Section 68 provides the Board may enter into an agreement with a medical practitioner in respect of the payment of reasonable fees for medical services provided in Victoria for persons who are injured or subsequently die from an accident.

Interim agreements have been made with 2,850 medical practitioners who represent by far the majority of doctors associated with accident cases and only about 2.5 per cent. of Board payments for medical services relate to doctors not under an agreement. Under the agreement medical practitioners submit accounts directly to the Board and provided the fee is not more than stipulated in the List of Medical Services and Fees published by the Australian Medical Association the Board accepts the fee as being "reasonable" pursuant to the Act and makes payment on a monthly basis. Such payment becomes a full discharge of the patient's liability.

Preparation of a formal agreement is in the hands of the Board's solicitors.

The effect of the agreement is to provide medical services at no cost to the persons injured.

Section 30 provides that where medical services are rendered by a medical practitioner with whom the Board does not have an agreement the Board will pay 80 per cent of the reasonable cost of such services.

Appendix 2 details the names of medical practitioners who provide medical services under interim agreements with the Board. The Board has encountered difficulties in relation to payments to doctors employed whole time in hospitals. Such payments are apparently payable to a Special Purposes Fund administered by a representative committee. Although these arrangements have been set up on principles established by the "Dillon" report in 1959 there are many aspects of the arrangements which the Board believes are unsatisfactory. The Board has written to the Chief Secretary seeking clarification of the issues involved.

(c) Hospital Services

Interim agreements have been entered into with 258 hospitals as listed in Appendix 3. The preparation of a suitable agreement has been completed and is being considered by the Hospital and Charities Commission.

The effect of the agreement is to provide hospital services at no cost to the persons injured.

Where a person is injured as a result of an accident as defined in the Motor Accidents Act and there does not appear to be an entitlement to workers compensation the Board in respect of public hospitals will pay 80 per cent. of the daily bed cost or outpatient cost pertaining to the hospital as specified in the Appendix to the Annual Report of the Hospital and Charities Commission for year ended 30th June, 1974.

Similar arrangements have been made with private hospitals and mutually acceptable fees agreed upon.

Hospitals have agreed to provide a standard of hospital and medical service which is generally understood to include "intermediate" type accommodation but not a private room unless this is a medical necessity. If a private room is requested by an injured person the hospital may make an additional charge for this provided the Board agrees, and in general, the Board would agree to the difference between the intermediate and the private rate per day being paid by the injured person.

Hospitals have agreed not to render accounts to patients for any of the costs for which the Motor Accidents Board has agreed to make payments.

Hospitals further agree they will permit an injured person to retain a medical practitioner of his choice to provide medical services whilst he is in hospital subject only to the approval of the medical practitioner by the hospital.

The agreement also provides for an officer of the Board to be allowed to examine records at the hospital, for the agreement to be revoked by either party on three months' notice and for the arbitration of disputes between the hospital and the Board.

Interim agreements have been entered into with all public hospitals and the majority of private hospitals, but for those private hospitals which have not made an agreement with the Board, the Board pays 70 per cent. of the "reasonable" costs incurred as a reimbursement to the patient. In general "reasonable" can be taken to mean an "intermediate" accommodation charge.

(d) Nursing Services

A nursing service for the purpose of the Act means attendance by a registered nurse otherwise than at a hospital and a benefit of 80 per cent. of the reasonable cost of a nursing service will be paid by the Board.

(e) Therapeutic Services

Therapeutic services includes attendance by a registered dentist, physiotherapist, optician, masseur or chiropodist, and provision repair, adjustment or replacement of crutches, artificial limbs, eyes or teeth, spectacles, hearing aids, etc., medical or surgical aids to rehabilitation and the provision of curative appliances or apparatus, etc. The Board will meet 80 per cent. of the reasonable costs of therapeutic service.

(f) Medicines and Curative Appliances

Provided these are prescribed by a medical practitioner, the whole of the reasonable cost incurred will be met by the Board if such items are purchased from a registered pharmaceutical chemist in Victoria.

(g) Replacement of Housekeeping Services

Eighty per cent. of the reasonable costs of replacing the services of a person who was injured or killed who was engaged on a full time unpaid basis in housekeeping duties for a period of one month preceding the accident will be met by the Board for a maximum period of 104 weeks provided an amount of at least $20 is involved. The maximum amount payable by the Board in respect of such services is $2,000.

(h) Other reasonable costs or expenses

The Board will meet 80 per cent. of other reasonable costs or expenses.

(i) Funeral Expenses

The Board will meet 80 per cent. of the reasonable costs incurred in Victoria of the burial or cremation of the deceased person.

(j) Compensation for Loss of Income to the injured person

Where a loss of income results from an accident in respect of an employee, the Board pays a benefit of 80 per cent. of the pre-accident income lost after taking account of income tax deducted, for the period he is incapacitated as a result of the accident. The Act also sets out a basis for compensation of loss of income suffered by self-employed persons and considerable difficulties arise for the Board in determining the losses suffered by such persons. If a person employs another to replace his services during his period of incapacity, the loss is much easier to define than if his work is merely delayed or altered to cope with the situation.

The maximum benefit payable by the Board in compensation for loss of income is $120 per week. The maximum period for which compensation may be paid is 104 weeks. The injured person is required to forward medical certificates to the Board from time to time to enable the Board to establish an entitlement to the benefit and it is the Board's practice to arrange for an examination by a doctor appointed by the Board after a suitable period.

The Board has appointed a panel of specialists to advise it with regard to the continuance or otherwise of loss of income benefits and this system is working very satisfactorily. If a dispute occurs regarding the state of health of the injured person in relation to his ability to return to gainful employment, Section 29 makes it possible for the Board to settle matters in dispute by making a lump sum payment to that person with his consent.

(k) Payments to Dependants for loss of income in respect of a deceased person

The rather complex formulae in the Act are designed to provide to dependants an income of $62\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the net average weekly earnings of the deceased. The maximum payment by the Board is \$93.75 per week for a maximum of 104 weeks. If the deceased person died some time after the accident and loss of income benefits in respect of the deceased had been claimed from the Board, the number of weeks of such benefit paid, if any, would be deducted from the maximum period of 104 weeks payable to dependants.

Legally, the widow's entitlement would be one-half of the benefit and the other half would be payable collectively to the children if there are three or more. If there are two children, one-third of the total benefits would be payable to the children and two-thirds to the widow and if there is one child, one-sixth would be payable to the child and five-sixths to the widow. This permits the specific allocation of benefits when someone other than the widow is acting in loco parentis. If there are no children the whole benefit would be payable to the widow.

To provide ready cash, a widow may receive 15 per cent. of future payments to all dependants in one lump sum, with a consequent reduction in subsequent payments to her.

5. APPEALS

The Act provides that administrative decisions of the Board in regard to the payment of benefits which are regarded as adverse by the injured person or his dependants may be taken to an Appeals Tribunal which will make an appropriate decision after investigating the matter. The Appeals Tribunal consists of one person, being a barrister and solicitor of not less than seven years' standing. The first appointment is Mr. A. J. Scurry, Q.C. Questions of law may be referred to the Supreme Court by the Tribunal itself or by either party to an appeal. However, such questions of law may also be taken directly to the Supreme Court without first referring the matter to the Tribunal. So far only two claimants have given notice of an intention to appeal and one of these was subsequently withdrawn. The Board's policy is to endeavour to make the cost of an appeal as low as possible for the appellant.

6. FINANCE

The Board, by written notice, is empowered to call upon authorised insurers for its funds (on a similar basis to the Nominal Defendant provisions in the Motor Car Act) and in calculating such calls or levies the Board must have regard to the various matters mentioned in Section 65, the general purpose of which is to require them to contribute pro rata according to their premium income and the periods during which they are authorised insurers. In addition to these levies there is a provision for a payment of an amount as prescribed directly to the Board by the Chief Commissioner of Police or by an authorised insurer from each third party premium received. At present this amount is $1.00 for motor cars and $3.00 for motor cycles. The purpose of this payment is to avoid the difficulties which would otherwise arise through the introduction of the scheme from the 12th February, 1974 in respect of road accidents on and after that date, having regard to the fact that the additional premiums required to finance part of the scheme will not on average be received until a period of six months from the commencement date, assuming registration renewals are spread evenly over the calendar year. These amounts are paid into a Special Account from which benefits appropriate to the loss of such additional premiums are paid.

In the period 12th February, to 30th June, 1974 insurers were levied $764,000. It should shortly be possible for the Board to make accurate short term forecasts of the cost of the "no fault" scheme and it will therefore become practical if so decided to discontinue using the "levy" system of financing the Board's operation by amending the Act so that increased amounts are paid directly to the Board.

7. WORKERS COMPENSATION

As stated in paragraph 2 if a person is or appears to be entitled to workers compensation, the Board is not liable to make payments but may do so if it so determines. This discretion was given to enable the Board to make payment of any difference between a particular workers compensation benefit and the amount payable by the Board as if no entitlement to workers compensation existed.

Furthermore, a person seeking workers compensation payments may have to await determination by the Workers Compensation Board before receiving payments and in these circumstances the Motor Accidents Board may exercise its discretion and pay the injured person pending such determination and then recover any amount payable from appropriate employers or insurance companies. Payments by the Board other than for loss of income are also effected by this aspect and medical practitioners and hospitals have been made aware of the need to distinguish between workers compensation cases and other cases when issuing accounts in respect of motor car accidents. It has become obvious that it is not always possible to determine whether workers compensation is applicable or not and in these cases accounting by doctors and hospitals can be difficult. In due course it may be that consideration should be given to the Board paying benefits in all road accident cases and recovering from insurance companies handling workers compensation on an overall formula basis each year rather than looking to recover on an individual basis as now provided. Since there are areas of benefit covered by the Motor Accidents Act which are not covered by workers compensation legislation such a system would ensure workers received maximum benefits.

8. EXCLUSIONS FROM BENEFITS

Section 16 provides that the Board is not liable to make payments in respect of loss of income to a person who was injured if he were:—

- (a) convicted of driving under the influence of liquor or drugs at the time of the accident,
- (b) never licensed to drive a motor car or was driving whilst his licence was suspended or cancelled (appropriate provisions have been made to cover learner drivers),
- (c) in an uninsured car owned by him,
- (d) using the car in the commission of a serious crime,
- (e) using the car for a race, competition or trial and the accident occurred other than on a highway.

Some problems have developed in administering these provisions in that prosecutions for driving under the influence usually take place many months after the accident, by which time payments are likely to have been made and there is no simple way of ascertaining the cases in which recoveries should be attempted. Similarly, there are difficulties in ascertaining whether a car involved in an accident was at the time engaged in the commission of a serious crime.

9. EARLY PAYMENT OF BENEFITS

One of the prime concerns of the Board has been to endeavour to make payments as soon as possible after an application for benefits has been made. In most cases, because most medical practitioners and hospitals have agreements with the Board, the early payment aspect has no impact on the injured person. However, when it comes to payments in respect of loss of income, early payment becomes very important. In addition to an application for benefits, the injured person must provide confirmation of his loss of income and medical evidence as to his incapacity and it is these aspects which delay the Board's assessment. Once the forms required have been lodged with the Board they are dealt with immediately and, in fact, if they are lodged personally at the Board's office, a cheque is made available within a few minutes.

10. STATISTICS AVAILABLE FROM BOARD'S FILES

The Board is in a unique position in regard to the provision of information relating to persons who are killed or injured on the roads, particularly in regard to the nature of injuries suffered. The Board is classifying the injuries reported which are described by the injured person in his application, by the treating doctor in his account, and by the hospital when the account is rendered. The injuries are coded in terms of the 8th revision of the International Classification of Diseases and can be related to the type of vehicle as stated on Motor Registration Branch records in respect of the registered number of the vehicle reported to the Board as being involved in the accident, to the status of the person concerned, i.e., whether he is a driver or passenger (and the particular seat occupied in the vehicle), pedestrian, etc., and to the type of accident, e.g., rear end collision, head on collision etc., as reported on the application form. The type of accident is coded in accordance with the system in use by the Road Safety and Traffic Authority. Of course, the data is not absolutely complete in respect of road accidents, since there will still be cases where persons are injured, probably mostly minor injuries, who did not claim on the Board and there will be workers compensation cases where no claim on the Board is made. Also there will be a number of cases where claims have not been notified by the time the statistics are produced. However, it is the first time in Australia that it has been possible for a statutory authority to bring all this information together and it should be of significant value in the efforts to reduce both the number of accidents involving injury and the extent of injuries suffered.

In Appendix 4 various experimental tables and statistics have been produced covering accidents which occurred in the period 12th February to 30th June, 1974. In this period the Board was mainly concerned with setting up an organisation to deal with the payment of benefits and the provision of statistics was a secondary consideration. It should be emphasised that much of the data and coding has not been checked and that caution should be used in drawing specific conclusions from the information in the tables. It should be noted that if a person suffers two specific injuries, for instance, a broken leg and a broken arm both of these will be counted as separate injuries. The number of injuries suffered will therefore, be greater than the number of persons injured. Although caution is advised in the use of the figures it is possible, even now, to gain some useful information from the tables, for instance :—

- (a) an approximate idea of the extent of serious injuries occurring on the roads. Table 6 shows that there were 5,078 serious injuries such as fractures, dislocations, amputations and head, spinal and internal injuries, noting as previously mentioned that one particular person may have suffered more than one injury. These injuries occurred among the 7,954 persons shown as injured in Table 2.
- (b) of 7,954 casualty claimants 1,166 were not mentioned on police reports. This means that in some cases there was not a police report for the accident or if there was a police report, the person's name was omitted from it.
- (c) Although people suffering head injuries comprise 30 per cent. of people seriously injured further analysis from other unpublished tables shows that for pedal cyclists injured, 42 per cent. of them suffer head injuries.

A similar situation exists in relation to fractures of arms and legs for motor cyclists. For vehicles other than motor cycles the proportion of fractured and amputated arms and legs is 15 per cent. of all serious injuries but for motor cyclists the proportion is an alarming 47 per cent. However, of all serious injuries suffered by motor cyclists, head injuries comprise only 29 per cent. whereas for motor cars the proportion of head injuries suffered is 52 per cent.

The Board intends to produce a periodical statistical bulletin and if researchers need additional information or statistical tables it will generally be possible to provide for such requests in the subsequent bulletin. For instance, in relation to the current interest in casualties among children under 8 years of age a special analysis of injuries suffered by children of various ages is being carried out.

11. DATA PROCESSING

The Board is expecting that a computer terminal will be installed in its city office in March 1975 and the provision of statistical information should be on a much improved basis in respect of the year from 1st July 1974 to 30th June 1975.

12. ACCOUNTS

Audited accounts to 30th June 1974 are attached as Appendix 5.

13. COST OF THE "NO FAULT" SCHEME

In order to ascertain the approximation to the average cost per injured person receiving benefits under the Act, accidents which occurred between 12th February and 28th February, 1974 were individually examined in September 1974. Estimates were made of the likely payments still to be made and the average cost including administration was expected to be about $330. Since September some further applications have been received that the Board was previously unaware of. For various other reasons it can be argued that the estimate of $330 is likely to be exceeded but even so the cost will be significantly less than the original estimates.

The major factors which affect the amount of third party premiums required for Board payments are medical expenses, hospital expenses, average weekly incomes and injury rates. Graphs of these factors over recent years are shown in Appendix 6.

14. PROPOSALS FOR IMPROVED HOSPITAL FACILITIES

The Board is very concerned about the effect of the new National Health Scheme in 1975 on the hospitalisation of accident victims. When most beds in public hospitals are free, the demand will certainly exceed supply and since the number of accident cases varies widely from day to day there will be uncertainty as to whether all cases will be able to be immediately admitted.

The Board is therefore currently developing proposals to be presented to the Government for the construction of additional accident facilities for use in conjunction with public hospitals which could be temporarily financed from Board funds on a basis which would ensure the new facilities would not fall within the ambit of the proposed new scheme. The Board regards this matter very seriously and it is hoped that a plan satisfactory to the Government and the Hospital and Charities Commission can be agreed early in the New Year.

15. REHABILITATION

The Board believes there is a substantial deficiency in the active rehabilitation of motor accident victims and a lack of communication and co-ordination between the applicant, the Board, the medical profession and industry. To guide the Board in planning policy to motivate and generate effective rehabilitation, it has been decided to engage a medical practitioner on a sessional basis to advise on this important but defective area. Furthermore our experience to date has convinced the Board of the need to employ a counselling officer to aid applicants, particularly widows, and an appointment has been made. The responsibilities of this position will be to ensure that proper advice is available to applicants in regard to the financial management of their own affairs and to ensure they are aware of any benefits available to them irrespective of the source of those benefits, for example, Social Services, Legacy, Canteen Services Fund, Friendly Societies, State Welfare services. The re-arrangement of domestic financial affairs such as mortgages, sale of houses etc., can also be troublesome for inexperienced people. The Board's function is to assist road accident victims and their dependants.

16. COUNTRY REPRESENTATION

Arrangements have been concluded with the Hospital Benefits Association for their branches or agencies to act as advisory centres for the benefit of country applicants. Information regarding payments together with application forms and other necessary details to support an application can now be obtained at the following addresses—

The Board hopes to conclude similar arrangements with other organisations at Geelong and Mildura. Thus road accident victims will not be unduly disadvantaged by reason of residing outside the metropolitan area.

17. AMENDMENTS TO THE MOTOR ACCIDENTS ACT

In our practical administration to date, serious anomalies have become manifest in the legislative provisions applying to loss of income benefits for self-employed applicants. Appropriate amendments have been developed which the Government has agreed to introduce in the next session of Parliament.

18. THE AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT PROPOSALS

A Bill has passed the House of Representatives titled "National Compensation Bill 1974".

Its object is to create a system of Social Service payments, referred to neutrally as "compensation" without regard to fault, covering death and all types of sickness and injury for all persons over 18 and under age 65 without regard to the circumstances in which the injury or illness occurs. However it is quite clearly a Social Service scheme and not an insurance scheme.

Briefly the main features of the proposal are as follow :—

A. The payment on—

- (a) total incapacity, of 85 per cent. of previous weekly income (minimum $50 maximum $500) to age 65 years
- (b) partial incapacity, of 85 per cent. of average weekly earnings per employed male multiplied by the proportionate incapacity
- (c) death, of widows' benefits which are divided into classes A and B but generally are 60 per cent. of the rate of husbands' benefit for total incapacity.

B. The abolition of the right to seek damages for personal injury or death

By far the most serious criticism which can be levelled at the scheme is the proposed destruction of the ability of a citizen to sue another citizen or company or institution or Government which causes personal injury or death by its negligence.

This right arose in England about 1,000 years ago as a method of keeping the peace and it is accepted as a fundamental concept of justice of democratic countries that compensation should be paid for damage wrongfully inflicted. This system produces a natural environment where safety is striven for because these rights exist. For instance, if industry does not provide reasonably safe working conditions its workers compensation premiums will be very high.

In Victoria a "no fault" system has been created in respect of road accidents which provides further specific legal rights which injured persons and the dependants of deceased persons can enforce without in any way destroying any of their existing common law rights. Surely it would be preferable for the Australian Government to follow the same course at least until the New Zealand system has been given a thorough trial. It can at this stage be confidently stated that no fundamental problems have arisen in Victoria by allowing the co-existence of both rights. The low cost of the additional "no fault" scheme (see paragraph 13) is one of the unexpected features which has emerged. This is not withstanding that the Victorian scheme appears to provide considerably better benefits in many areas and has better features than is the case under the "Woodhouse" proposals. For instance, the Victorian Motor Accidents Act 1973 and Workers Compensation Act 1958 provide for the payment of "reasonable" costs and expenses incurred as a result of the injury whereas the National Compensation Bill uses the words "losses resulting directly from the injury".

The combination of free ambulance, medical and hospital services of the highest level, regular payments to replace income and a lump sum some time later to compensate for pain and suffering and future economic loss, where the injury or death arises from negligence, seems to provide an extremely satisfactory method of compensation. Additionally social service benefits are payable on a means test basis to meet a future situation when such compensation proves inadequate. Further the lump sum and Social Service payments are not taxable whereas under the proposed National scheme the income benefits are taxable.

Although income earners are to be provided with benefits in lieu of their present rights, the persons who will receive no benefits because of their age, who comprise at least one third of the population, are apparently not to have their common law rights destroyed but it is the object of the Bill to dismantle the various State compulsory third party insurance systems so that road accident victims cannot then be sure of enjoying the financial satisfaction of any Court judgments in their favour. This would take Victoria back to the pre 1941 days when third party insurance was voluntary and for those who did not insure, their personal assets including their homes were at risk.

Logically there seems to be two options open:—

- (a) since the present proposals are virtually a copy of the New Zealand system without the benefit of experience, (the New Zealand system did not commence until April 1974) await the results in that country, especially the public reaction to it, or
- (b) set up an enquiry to determine the weaknesses and gaps in the Australian situation and apply acceptable remedies without reducing existing rights.

The National Compensation Bill 1974 was based on three Reports by the National Committee of Enquiry headed by Mr. Justice A. O. Woodhouse, D.S.C., a Judge of the Court of Appeal of New Zealand.

This Committee was not charged with the task of ascertaining the need for a scheme but only with reporting on the scope and form. Thus no enquiry as to necessity has been carried out.

The Reports are voluminous and give the appearance of being comprehensive and fully researched. However they contain a large amount of unsubstantiated assertions many of which are incapable of proof.

The Board is also particularly concerned to note that in relation to simple facts which could have been checked, the Reports contain serious errors. For instance, in referring to the Victorian Scheme on page 120 et seq of Volume 1 it is stated the insurance industry administers the "no fault" scheme, that the extra premium to be paid was $9 per annum for private cars, that the scheme commenced on 14th February, 1974. The facts are this Board administers the scheme, the extra premium was $5.90 and the commencement date was 12th February, 1974.

In Volume 3 a large number of examples is given comparing benefits paid under the present damages basis and those expected under the new proposals.

In no case has any allowance been made for any Social Service payment after settlement and before age 65 yet it is common knowledge that once the lump sum from a settlement is utilised in an acceptable manner e.g., reduction of a mortgage on a home, and subsequent incapacity, partial or total, temporary or permanent, as a result of the accident prevents employment the average case will be entitled to sickness or invalid Social Service benefits.

Having studied the Australian Government proposals the Board is convinced that the present overall basis operating in Victoria provides greater benefits for road accident victims than the system proposed by the Australian Government and should not therefore be lightly abandoned.

19. DIFFICULTIES WITH AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

Unfortunately the Board's initial relationship with two Australian Government agencies has been somewhat difficult.

Firstly a statutory notice has been received from the Department of Social Security claiming reimbursement of cost of services rendered to an injured person at a Rehabilitation Centre notwithstanding that no charges have been paid by the injured person and that services are generally understood to be free.

Further, advice has been received from the Commissioner for Employee's Compensation which in effect denies Australian Government employees the benefits provided under the Victorian Motor Accidents Act because any payment by this Board would terminate an employee's right to workers compensation and furthermore would expose the employee to a claim for recovery of any workers compensation benefits already paid.

The Board has suggested to the Commissioner he should seek an amendment to the appropriate Act.

20. APPRECIATION

The Board wishes to place on record its thanks for the contributions of all concerned with the successful inauguration of the first "no fault" road accident scheme in Australia.

V. H. ARNOLD, Chairman.
B. K. RANK
J. S. BARWICK

Melbourne, 21st April, 1974.
