Comments and Feedback

This publication has been prepared with reference to the electoral maps made available by the Electoral Boundaries Commission. However, without access to registered voter lists indicating where people cast their vote, re-allocating polling places to new electorates is an imprecise science, especially when polling places need to be split between electorates. Comments and suggestions on the transfer of polling places are most welcome. Messages can be e-mailed to me at green.antony@abc.net.au.

INTRODUCTION

This publication assesses the political impact of the new Victorian electoral boundaries, proclaimed on 17 October 2013. The new boundaries will be used for the first time at the 2014 state election.

The publication is based on the results of the 2010 election and does not provide predictions for the 2014 election. The estimated new margins listed in this publication are best thought of as estimated results for the 2010 election had it been fought on the new boundaries.

However, the estimated new margins cannot take into account the differences in candidate and campaign effort that would have occurred if the 2010 election had been fought on the new boundaries. The difficulty of splitting polling place catchment areas to match new electoral boundaries, as well as allocating declaration votes to new electorates, means the estimated margins in this publication should be treated as approximations.

CALCULATIONS AND METHODOLOGY

To calculate the political impact of the new boundaries, the results of the 2010 election have been re-assigned to match the new electoral boundaries. This required a series of assumptions to be made as part of the calculations. These assumptions concern whether votes are cast for candidates or parties, how to transfer polling places between old and new electorates, and how to apportion declaration vote between new electorates.

Votes for Candidates versus Votes for Parties

An assumption has been made that votes are cast for parties rather than candidates. This is a reasonable assumption, but it cannot correct for the personal support for popular sitting members, or correct for parties running minimal campaigns in their opponent's safe seats.

Transferring Booths to Match the New Boundaries

The Electoral Boundaries Commission report included tables of enrolment transfers between old and new electorates. The transfers, along with the published maps, have been used as a guide to transfer polling place results from the 2010 election to match the new electorates. Where the transfers and maps suggest the catchment area of a polling place should be divided, an estimate has been made to divide the results of a polling place between new electorates.

Dealing with the Declaration Vote

For calculation purposes, all declaration votes (pre-poll, postal, absent etc) have been accumulated into a single total and apportioned between new electorates.

These accumulated totals have been transferred in proportion to the transfer of enrolment from each old to new electorates. However, the vote by party in the declaration vote has been weighted to reflect the vote by party in polling places transferred between electorates.

As an example, the old electorate of Macedon has re-drawn, with around half of its voters remaining in the new Macedon, while the other half now forms part of the new electorate of Sunbury. The polling places in those parts of Macedon transferred to Sunbury voted more strongly for the Labor Party in 2010 than areas that have remained with Macedon. As a result, in dividing the declaration vote between Sunbury and Macedon, the pattern of polling place results has been reflected in the declaration vote transferred. Sunbury has therefore been allocated a higher proportion of Labor vote and lower proportion of Liberal vote in the divided declaration vote compared to the declaration vote transferred to Macedon.

By-elections and Changes in Party Membership

Calculations in this publication are based on the result of the 2010 election. They do not use the results of the four by-elections conducted since the 2010 election. The by-elections were in Labor held Broadmeadows (February 2011), Niddrie (March 2012), Melbourne (July 2012) and Lyndhurst (April 2013). Labor retained all four seats and none of the by-elections were contested by the Liberal Party.

The publication also does not take account of the change in party status of Frankston MLA Mr Geoff Shaw. Mr Shaw was elected as a Liberal candidate at the 2010 election, but now sits as an Independent. Calculations in this publication indicate that based on the 2010 election, the Liberal margin for Frankston falls from 2.1% to 0.4% based on the new boundaries

Two-Party Preferred versus Two-Candidate Preferred Results

The two-candidate preferred count for an electorate is defined as the final count of votes between the two remaining candidates after the exclusion and distribution as preferences of votes for all other candidates. At each stage of the distribution of preferences, the candidate with the fewest votes is excluded and his or her ballot papers re-examined to determine the candidate with the next available preference. To achieve victory, a candidate must receive more than 50% of the total two-candidate preferred vote. Where a candidate achieves more than 50% of the vote before the final distribution, the two-candidate preferred count is continued to completion for information purposes.

The two-party preferred count represents a distribution of preferences between candidates representing the Labor Party and the Coalition. Candidates are again excluded based on lowest progressive vote, though at some point the second lowest candidate is excluded to retain candidates representing Labor and the Coalition. The two-party preferred count plays no part in determining the winning candidate but is undertaken for information purposes.

In most cases, the two-party preferred result will be the same as the two-candidate preferred result. At the 2010 election, 82 of the 88 electorates finished as two-party preferred contests between Labor and Coalition candidates. In Brunswick, Melbourne, Northcote and Richmond, the final two-candidate preferred contest was between Labor and Green candidates. In Gippsland East and Mildura the final contest was between National and Independent candidates. A separate two-party preferred count was conducted between Labor and the Coalition in these six contests.

In Bendigo West the final two-candidate preferred count saw Labor retain the seat with a 2.9% margin versus the National Party. An alternative count between Labor and Liberal candidates produced a Labor margin of 8.0% based on differential flows of third party preferences. Margins based on both counts are referred to where relevant in this publication.

Two-party preferred margins are provided in this publication for all 88 new electorates. Alternative two-candidate preferred margins have been calculated between Labor and the Greens for the electorates of Brunswick, Melbourne, Northcote and Richmond.

Legislative Council Calculations

Percentage first preference votes for each party have been calculated for each new Legislative Council region. The same calculation methods have been used based on the same polling place transfers. Estimates can be found on page 119.

Electorate Name Changes

Of the 88 Legislative Assembly electorates, 73 retain the same name, though some continuing electorates have undergone extensive boundary changes. Fifteen electorate names have disappeared, and fifteen new names appear or re-appear on the state's electoral map.

For the purposes of this publication, I have treated ten of these fifteen electorates as being changes in name, while I have identified five electorates as having been abolished and five as newly created.

See the summary of the political impact on page 4 for the details of electorates classed as abolished, created and re-named.

Throughout this publication the new names for electorates will generally be used.

Update – August 2014

When originally published in November 2013, there was an error in the re-calculated informal vote listed for each electorate. This has been corrected with this version of the publication. No other calculations were affected.

Summary of the Political Impact

Party Composition of Legislative Assembly based on Old and New Boundaries

	Seats Held By Party				Total
	Liberal	National	Labor	Others
Old Boundaries	35	10	43	..	88
New Boundaries	39	9	40	..	88
Including Geoff Shaw resignation	38	9	40	1	88

To summarise the overall changes, one Liberal seat has been abolished in Melbourne's east as well as one National seat in country Victoria. Two notionally Labor-held electorates have been created in Melbourne's western suburbs. Major boundary changes have also resulted in five Labor-held seats becoming notionally Liberal-held.

While in seat numbers Labor has lost a net five seats, the swing needed for Labor to achieve a majority in the Legislative Assembly has declined.

On the old boundaries Labor needed to gain two seats on a uniform swing of 1.2% for majority government, on the new boundaries it needs five seats but on a uniform swing of 0.9%. Two of the seats Labor needs to gain in this range currently have sitting Labor members.

On both the old and new pendulums there are 16 seats with margins of 2.5% or under. On the old boundaries there were five Liberal and 11 Labor seats in this range. On the new notional margins, there are now nine Liberal seats in this category to seven Labor seats. Of the nine Liberal seats in this range, five currently are represented by Labor members.

A summary of the major changes are:

- Of the 88 Legislative Assembly districts, 73 retain their old name while 15 electorate names disappear and 15 new or revived electorate names appear. Of the 15 name changes, five are treated in this publication as the abolition and creation of new seats, while ten have been treated as name changes.
- In rural Victoria, the National held electorates of Rodney and Swan Hill have been abolished and replaced by the new seat of Murray Plains. National held Benalla has been abolished and a new notionally National held seat of Euroa created. In addition, boundary changes have seen Murray Valley re-named Ovens Valley.
- The marginal Liberal seat of Seymour has been abolished and the new and safer Liberal seat of Eildon created further east.
- In Melbourne's east, the Liberal seat of Doncaster has been abolished.
- Two new and notionally Labor held seats have been created in Melbourne's west, Sunbury in the north-west and Werribee in the south-west.
- In Ballarat, Ballarat East has been re-named Buninyong and is strengthened for Labor, while Ballarat West becomes Wendouree and switches from being marginal Labor to notionally Liberal held.
- In Melbourne's east and south-east, the re-arrangement of boundaries sees the following changes: Clarinda (previously Clayton), Croydon (Kilsyth), Keysborough (Lyndhurst), Ringwood (Mitcham) and Rowville (Scoresby). None change party status though the notional Liberal margin in Ringwood is 6.3% compared to 2.8% for Mitcham.
- In Melbourne's west, St Albans replaces Derrimut and Sydenham replaces Keilor. Both remain safe Labor seats.

As well as Ballarat West/Wendouree, four other electorates change party status on the new boundaries.

- Geelong-based Bellarine was won by Labor with a margin of 1.4% in 2010, but on new boundaries becomes a notional Liberal seat with a margin of 2.5%.
- Changes to the boundaries of Monbulk see its Labor margin of 1.9% replaced by a notional Liberal margin of 1.1%.
- A major re-drawing of Ripon sees the Labor margin of 2.7% become an estimated Liberal margin of 1.6%.
- Having been more than 60% over-quota on the old boundaries, a massive re-drawing of Yan Yean sees the Labor margin of 4.1% become a very narrow estimated Liberal margin of 0.1%

Several other electorates have the margin of their holding party significantly changed.

- The Liberal margin in Carrum declines from 2.0% to an estimated 0.3%.
- The Labor margin in Essendon rises from 2.4% to an estimated 4.3%.
- The Liberal margin in Frankston declines from 2.1% to 0.4%. Note that sitting MLA Geoff Shaw now sits as an Independent.
- The Labor margin in Geelong increases from 2.1% to an estimated 4.0%.
- The Labor margin in Macedon increases from 1.3% to an estimated 2.3%.
- The Labor margin in Mulgrave declines substantially from 8.5% to 2.4%.

St Albans	New seat	ALP 14.0%	Replaces the abolished seat of Derrimut, shifting north to take in the suburb of St Albans, losing Deer Park to Kororoit and Sunshine to Footscray.
Sunbury	New seat	ALP 6.5%	An entirely new seat created from the Sunbury end of the old electorate of Macedon, with Tullamarine and Gladstone Park added from Yuroke.
Swan Hill	NAT 29.3%	Abolished	Forms the basis of the new National seat of Murray Plains with a margin of 30.2%.
Sydenham	New seat	ALP 11.5%	Replaces Keilor, the new name reflecting the seat's shift westward. The Labor margin increases from the 10.3% by which it held Keilor.
Tarneit	ALP 11.1%	ALP 11.0%	Takes in areas north of the freeway and railway line from Altona and the current Tarneit, while the southern parts of the old seat form the base for the new seat of Werribee.
Thomastown	ALP 20.2%	ALP 21.6%	Substantial shifts in population with neighbouring electorates but with little impact on the Labor margin.
Warrandyte	LIB 13.9%	LIB 17.2%	A major changes in boundaries as the electorate shifts west following the abolition of Doncaster.
Wendouree	New seat	Lib 0.1%	Replaces the Labor held seat of Ballarat West, having also lost Sebastopol to Buninyong. Ballarat West's Labor margin of 1.1% replaced by a notional Liberal margin of 0.1%.
Werribee	New seat	ALP 11.4%	Becomes the third seat in the rapidly growing Wyndham Council area of Melbourne's south-west. Formed from parts of the former seats of Lara and Tarneit.
Williamstown	ALP 11.8%	ALP 13.2%	Gains Seddon from Footscray. Loses Seaholme to Altona.
Yan Yean	ALP 4.1%	LIB 0.1%	Massive boundary change given this electorate was more than 60% over the enrolment quota. The loss of strong Labor voting territory around Epping results in this electorate becoming notionally Liberal held, though it is difficult to be precise in calculating the new margin.
Yuroke	ALP 15.3%	ALP 16.0%	Loses Gladstone Park and Tullamarine to the new district of Sunbury. Moves from Western to Northern Metropolitan Region.

Underlining indicates seats changing party status on the new boundaries.

DETAIL OF NEW LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DISTRICTS

Format for Listings

For each new electorate, a summary of total vote by party is provided, as well as detail of the transfers between old and new electorates brought about by the redistribution.

The summary table includes an entry for all parties that contested polling places within the boundary of each new electorate. The table includes a total and percentage of first preference vote, two-candidate preferred vote and two-party preferred vote. Where an electorate includes transfers from electorates with different combinations of two-candidate preferred contestants in 2010 (eg Northcote), there may be more than two parties listed under the two-party and two-candidate preferred totals.

The final line of each summary table shows the calculated total votes transferred to the new electorate as a percentage of the total enrolment at the date of the redistribution.

After the summary table, a series of totals are provided that correspond to transfers of enrolment between old and new electorates. There is a separate listing and total for each transfer that involved polling places. Transfers in from an old electorate are listed first, followed by transfers out of the existing electorate into new electorates. (A number of enrolment transfers that did not involve polling place transfers have been excluded from the listings.)

Albert Park includes transfers from the following old electorates

	2-PARTY PREFERRED		PRIMARY VOTES
From: Albert Park (38132 voters, 34049 last election votes, 89.3% of enrolment)
Bridport, Kerferd South, Middle Park, Port Melbourne East, Port Melbourne West, Sandridge, South Melbourne, Southbank, St Kilda Park (50%), St Kilda South (50%), Absent, Postal, Provisional, Early, Declaration Vote (80%)

%	50.4	49.6	30.7	40.1	16.6	12.6

This example shows the transfers from the old electorate of Albert Park to the new electorate of Albert Park. The full listing for Albert Park also includes transfers from the old electorate of Prahran, and transfers out of the old Albert Park to Brighton and Prahran.

Each entry shows the total number of enrolled voters transferred, as well as the calculated number of votes and the total transferred votes as a percentage of the enrolled voters.

Below this is a list of all booths that form part of the transfer. Booths that have been split are shown with a percentage indicating the proportion of the booth transferred. A percentage of declaration votes transferred is also shown. Totals of two-party preferred and first preference votes are shown with each transfer. Where a transfer includes an area that finished as a two-candidate preferred contest in 2010, a separate two-candidate preferred total is also provided under the party transfer totals.

Legislative Council Changes

Party Composition of Legislative Council based on Old and New Boundaries

	Seats Held By Party			Total
	Liberal/National	Labor	Green
Old Boundaries	21	16	3	40
New Boundaries	20	17	3	40

Based on 2010 Legislative Council results, the new region boundaries suggest the only politically significant change is that it will be more difficult for the Liberal Party to retain its second seat in North Metropolitan Region.

Eastern Metropolitan Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	30.46	51.68	11.45	3.12	2.61	..	0.68
	Quotas	1.83	3.10	0.69	0.19	0.16	..	0.04
New boundaries	% Vote	31.03	49.93	12.29	2.86	2.51	..	1.38
	Quotas	1.86	3.00	0.74	0.17	0.15	..	0.08

Gains Ivanhoe from Northern Metropolitan Region and Mount Waverley from South Eastern Metropolitan Region, while the southern parts of the former electorates of Scoresby and Ferntree Gully are transferred to South Eastern Metropolitan. There are also smaller adjustments with Northern Metropolitan, Southern Metropolitan and Eastern Victoria.

Overall the changes slightly strengthen the position of Labor and the Greens at the expense of the Liberal Party, but based on 2010 preference tickets and results, the region would still have elected three Liberal and two Labor MLCs.

Eastern Victoria Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	28.37	52.82	10.43	3.27	1.98	..	3.13

	Quotas	1.70	3.19	0.62	0.20	0.12	..	0.18

On the edge of Melbourne there are minor boundary changes with Eastern and Southern Metropolitan regions, while the rural eastern end of the lower house seat of Gembrook is transferred as part of the new electorate of Eildon to Northern Victoria Region.

The changes have little political impact, the region still electing three Coalition and two Labor MLCs based on 2010 results and preference tickets.

Northern Metropolitan Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	41.94	27.13	19.20	2.32	2.70	3.63	3.08

New boundaries	% Vote	44.76	24.63	18.73	2.56	2.94	3.85	2.53
	Quotas	2.69	1.48	1.12	0.15	0.18	0.23	0.15

The lower house electorates of Pascoe Vale and Yuroke are transferred from Western Metropolitan Region, while Ivanhoe is transferred to Eastern Metropolitan and the re-drawn electorate of Yan Yean to Northern Victoria.

The new boundaries significantly weaken the Liberal position and make it harder for the party to elect two members. The 2010 result was two Labor, two Liberal, one Green, while on the new boundaries the more likely result would be three Labor, one Liberal and one Green based on 2010 results and preference tickets.

Northern Victoria Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	27.14	48.99	8.01	2.94	1.61	3.82	7.49

The region gains the re-drawn electorate of Yan Yean from Northern Metropolitan Region, loses areas west of Bendigo to Western Victoria and the Sunbury area to Western Metropolitan Region, but gains the eastern end of the old Gembrook electorate from Eastern Victoria.

There is a slight weakening of the Coalition's position, but based on 2010 results and preference tickets, the region would still have elected three Coalition and two Labor MLCs.

South Eastern Metropolitan Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	43.41	40.94	8.76	3.16	2.59	..	1.14

	Quotas	2.58	2.48	0.51	0.20	0.16	..	0.07

The region loses Mount Waverley to Eastern Metropolitan Region but gains the southern ends of the old electorates of Scoresby and Ferntree Gully. There are also other minor boundary changes.

The changes have little political impact and the re-drawn region would still have returned three Labor and two Liberal MLCs based on 2010 election results and preference tickets.

Southern Metropolitan Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	25.28	51.57	16.33	0.95	1.80	3.24	0.83

There have been only minor adjustments to the boundaries of Southern Metropolitan Region. Based on 2010 results and preference tickets, the region would still have elected three Liberal one Labor and one Green MLC.

Western Metropolitan Region

		ALP	L/NP	GRN	FFP	DLP	ASXP	OTH
Old Boundaries	% Vote	46.86	29.63	12.00	3.62	3.15	4.73	..

The region loses areas around Werribee to Western Metropolitan, loses Hepburn Shire to Northern Victoria but gains some areas west of Bendigo in return.

The Coalition's position is strengthened based on 2010 results, and the region would still have returned three Coalition and two Labor MLCs based on 2010 results and preference tickets.
